Flu Epidemic
Statistics Given
For Ohio

COLUMBUS (P) — How serious was the influenza epidemic that struck Ohio last September and lasted to the end of the year?
Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, state health director, reports that during the epidemic period a total of 160 deaths was reported with influenza listed as a primary cause. In another 107 deaths, largely among older persons, influenza was listed as a possible contributing cause.
The state health department made hundreds of laboratory tests and found the Asian-type influenza virus in 41 of the 71 Ohio counties that had influenza outbreaks. Ohio has 88 counties.
Dr. Dwork said the death rate was highest among older persons and next highest among infants.
The illness apparently struck hardest at school-age children. Many schools reported half their students absent on some days.
Although there have been no signs of a second wave of influenza, Dr. Dwork suggested continued use of influenza vaccine by persons who are in the most susceptible age groups and who have not been ill with influenza.

HONOLULU (P) — Aircraft and ships crisscrossing the path of typhoon Ophelia again today, hunting a U.S. weather reconnaissance plane that vanished Tuesday night with 10 crewmen.
The missing B-50 bomber, adapted for weather reconnaissance, last reported at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday when it was some 600 miles north of Guam, heading into the typhoon's center. The center contained winds reported in excess of 140 miles per hour.
At Yokosuka, Japan, Thursday the Navy reported that listening stations at Guam, Hawaii, Anchorage and Adak picked up faint SOS signals in the general area of the plane's disappearance, but they were too weak to provide a position.

BERLIN (P) — Russia and the Allied Powers today appeared to have reached a truce in their dispute over the documents military trains between West Germany and West Berlin must have.
A U.S. mission spokesman told newsmen: "For the time being we do not anticipate any further difficulties." He refused to elaborate.
Four American trains were delayed up to 10 hours Wednesday while the Russian border garrisons insisted on stamping the allied train documents.
The Allies rejected the new Russian travel orders, contending that their prior agreement was not obtained as required under the four power accords. Allied trains are running normally.

OTTAWA (P) — Lester B. Pearson, newly elected leader of Canada's Liberal party, is expected to begin consultations immediately with other top Liberals on the question of when and how to force a new election.
The opposition party's national convention chose the 60-year-old career diplomat as its new leader Thursday night. Pearson succeeds former Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, quitting because of his 75 years. He will become prime minister if the Liberals win the next election.
The vote was 1,074-305.
In his acceptance speech, Pearson gave no hint of when a general election might be expected.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (P) — The Rev. Felix S. Anderson of Louisville is the first Negro in history to sit as chairman of a standing committee in the Kentucky Legislature.
Anderson, fourth Negro to serve in the General Assembly, heads the Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments.
Gov. A. B. Chandler said "this illustrates the progress we are making in Kentucky."

One body was recovered and six other persons were missing. An ammonia explosion sent tons of bricks crashing down from two walls of the building.

Shin Kicking Boy
Fends Off Robbers

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (P) — A 7-year-old boy went into action when one of two gunmen dragged his mother from a car and demanded her purse.
As the gunman twisted the arm of Mrs. Konstance Kohlsh of San Francisco, her son Theodore kicked the man's shin. The gunman brushed the boy aside. Theodore kept kicking.
Finally Theodore told the gunmen if they would let his mother go he'd tell them where the money was. He showed them a wallet in a shopping bag. So the gunmen departed with $125.

Blind Navajo
Medicinemans
Lauds Whites

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (P) — A white medicinemans has given a Navajo medicinemans sight again.
Today the eye surgeon, Dr. Arthur Gray, flew Eastern Biked back to his beloved Monument Valley in southeast Utah.
It was the first plane ride for the Navajo, who says he is 87.
Dr. Gray encountered the blind medicinemans last September when the surgeon landed his four-place plane on a tiny airstrip in Monument Valley to visit an old classmate.
The classmate was supervising a Mormon medical mission. A nurse told the surgeon about Bikini, who had helped to build the mission.
Dr. Gray recalled Thursday night: "I went to see him with an interpreter and he told me: 'I am still strong. I have good hands and legs. But I must use a granddaughter for my eyes. If you give me eyes I can work.'"
Back in Inglewood, Dr. Gray told the Lions Club about Bikini. The club brought the blind man here by train and financed his hospitalization. Left behind were his wife, 7 children and 13 grandchildren.
Two weeks ago the surgeon removed one of Bikini's eyes and took a cataract from the other.
After his sight began returning, Bikini commented: "White man medicine better than Indian medicine. But white man food not so good."

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) has named Kenneth F. Martin Jr. of Ada, Ohio, as his principal nominee for the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

More Supervision Is Urged
For Kids Launching Rockets

WASHINGTON (P) — Some youngsters now experimenting with rockets may one day pioneer major scientific achievements. But their activities now are worrying some safety-minded people.
The National Fire Protection Assn. and the American Rocket Society are calling for a national program of proper supervision and safe launching sites for young experimenters in what they call "extremely dangerous" field.
Nobody denies the kids are getting valuable science know-how out of building rockets. But amateur launching efforts have been responsible for numerous accidents and even some deaths in recent months.
Just Thursday an 11-year-old boy was killed in Samson, Ala., in the explosion of a homemade rocket he and his brother were trying to launch. The brother was hurt.

House OK Forecast on Plan
To Hike Federal Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (P) — House passage next week was forecast today for a measure to let the government go deeper in debt for missile, and other defense needs.
Secretary of the Treasury Anderson went before the House Ways and Means Committee to support the administration's request for a temporary rise from $275 to $280 billion in the present legal limit on the national debt. The change would be effective until July 1, 1959.
Anderson had asked the increase by letter three days ago, saying he needs "sufficient flexibility that will allow us the capacity to do as good a job as we can in the management of the debt."
House leaders, anticipating no concerted opposition, already have scheduled debt increase legislation for a vote Tuesday.
The increase would permit new government borrowing to finance maturing obligations before the bulk of tax receipts flow in during the next several months.

'Kingfish' In Real-Life
Wife Trouble

LOS ANGELES (P) — The Kingfish of the Amos 'n' Andy television show has been ordered held for trial on his wife's complaint of assault with a deadly weapon.
But just as "Kingfish" Harry R. (Tim) Moore, 70, squeals out of one scrape after another on the program, it looks as if he'll avoid this real-life one too. His wife Vivian has told the court she doesn't want to prosecute.
The couple sat together, arm in arm and smiling, at his court preliminary hearing Thursday.
Mrs. Moore had told police that during an argument in their home over a missing roast beef Jan. 7, he fired a pistol shot that landed in a china closet and hurt nobody.
She testified in court.
The couple went out in midafternoon and dined on turkey. They returned about 10 p. m. to find her son Paul V. Hubbard, 23, and her son-in-law and daughter, Earl and Eve Brown, watching television.
The Kingfish headed for the kitchen for a cut of the beef. A moment later he charged into the living room yelling: "Where's the rest of that roast?"
He ran upstairs, came back brandishing a pistol, announced he was "tired of this family mooching off me" and fired.
"We all ran," Mrs. Moore said.

Michigan City Unhappy;
Only 5 Feet of Snow

HOUGHTON, Mich. (P) — Houghton has had only a little more than five feet of snow this winter and longtime residents say that isn't right.
Normally Houghton, which sticks out into Lake Superior, reigns as the snow capital of the North. Normal snowfall to this date is 75 inches. Total so far is only 63 inches.
In the winter of 1950-51 Houghton recorded more than 23 1/2 feet.

Streets, Highways
In Better Shape

Area streets and highways appeared to be in much better condition today than they were yesterday.
However, local streets remained slippery in some spots. The same was true for county highways.
Yesterday's glare of ice made driving and walking very hazardous. Several auto accidents were recorded here, none of a serious nature.
Today's forecast calls for cloudiness with occasional snow tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will dip into the 20's, with a high in the 30's predicted tomorrow.

Sandusky Reactor
Labeled as 'Safe'

WASHINGTON (P) — Construction of the proposed atomic reactor near Sandusky, Ohio, is so planned that the likelihood of any radiation to surrounding communities would be remote, a project engineer for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics believes.
Samuel Kaufman testified Thursday before Jay Kyle, examiner for the Atomic Energy Commission, on an application by the NACA for a permit to construct the reactor. It would be used in testing materials for atomic-powered airplanes. Preliminary construction work has started.
There has been comment about safety features of the reactor, but no formal opposition.

Quality of Yeggs
Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (P) — Safecrackers just aren't what they used to be. That's the opinion of detective Jim Maher who investigated a safecracking case Thursday at a warehouse here.
The yeggs spent about a half hour "peeling open," with the firm's tools, a safe which contained only index cards.
Maher reported the safe:
1. Had a "for sale" sign taped on top of it.
2. Had the combination numbers listed on top.
3. Was unlocked.

Ohio Democrat
Boss Chides
O'Neill Plan

COLUMBUS (P) — Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman today criticized Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill's decision to run for reelection on his record.
"I heartily agree with the governor's statement that he should stand on his administration's record in his bid for reelection," Coleman said.
"I feel certain that the people of Ohio, given the facts, are capable of rendering an accurate judgment of that record. I am certain too, that their judgment will be that the O'Neill administration has been one of the worst, one of the most inept administrations in the history of the state."
O'Neill announced for reelection Thursday at what was termed his largest press conference since taking office.
Describing the news conference as a "Hollywood extravaganza," Coleman said: "It is too bad that the governor does not put the same effort into press conferences for the purpose of giving the facts to the voters of Ohio."

Sun's Corona
May Extend To Earth

WASHINGTON (P) — Recent research suggests the earth may lie within a gaseous layer surrounding the sun, 93 million miles away.
Previously, the concept has been that the sun's corona, or outermost gaseous layer, extends only several hundred thousand miles into space.
Hugh Odishaw, executive secretary of the U. S. National Committee of the International Geophysical Year, told about this in discussing some of the research results so far during the 18-month IGY.
The IGY, now six months along, is a cooperative effort of 67 nations to learn more about the earth, its oceans and the cosmic environment surrounding it.
Odishaw's report in the journal Science dealt mainly with American research results. He said American scientists have come up with certain new observations of cosmic ray behavior which lead them to theorize that there may be important magnetic fields in outer space.
Asked about the corona and cosmic ray studies, Odishaw said: "I feel that we are at the threshold of beginning to understand a bit more about the interplanetary medium—that is, the space between the planets. But it would be premature to speculate on what this means in terms of manned ventures into space."

Columbus Man
Seeks Senate

Michael Desmond, Columbus, publicity director of the Ohio Highway and Turnpike Assn. and former newspaper man, today announced he has petitions signed and notarized and shortly will file for the Democratic nomination for the two-year term as state senator from the 10th District — Franklin and Pickaway counties.
Desmond, 58, is a native of Perry County. He was a working newspaper man for 20 years, covering the Ohio Senate. For the last 10 years he has been publicity writer for Ohio Turnpike Committee and now the Ohio Highway and Turnpike Assn.

Snowbound Citizen
Sends Bill to City

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (P) — A self-styled "dissatisfied taxpayer," Dante A. Mollo, went before the City Council with a complaint about last week's snowstorm.
He said he left his home the morning of Jan. 10 "in the best of spirits, but within a few minutes my good spirits had changed to despair."
The street had not been plowed and it took him an hour to get out, he said.
Mollo filed a claim for $52.06 of which $2.06 was an hour's lost pay and $50 for "mental anguish."
The council referred the matter to a committee.

School Given Scare

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P) — A bomb scare touched off a search of Central High School by a platoon of Arkansas National Guardsmen Thursday night, but no explosive was found.

Navy's Polaris
IRBM Test Firing
Labeled Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (P) — The Navy launched a Polaris ballistic missile test vehicle here today. It was the first Polaris test officially identified as such.
Judging from its performance at the start, and until it disappeared down the Air Force missile test range, it was a highly successful shot.
The Polaris, noted for its fantastic speed, streaked away, straight as an arrow, toward its undisclosed target southeast.
The Lockheed missile was launched less than an hour after sunrise, into a cloudless sky.
Almost immediately after the launching, the Air Force Missile Test Center here confirmed it with the following announcement:
"A test vehicle in the Navy Polaris program was fired from the missile test center today."
IT IS KNOWN that a number of Polaris test devices have been fired from this center within the last 12 months.
Polaris, named after the North Star, is the Navy's 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile. It was designed for launching from atomic powered submarines.
McElroy indicated that by early 1960 the Navy may have a fully developed Polaris, capable of being fired above or under water and of going the full 1,500-mile range. It would be ready for full scale testing and for quantity production by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., if the missile met requirements.

Millionaire's Baby
To Share in Estate

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (P) — A high school girl put out for adoption by her millionaire father when she was a baby will receive about $200,000 under a court approved settlement of his estate.
Superior Judge Edmund E. Scott approved the settlement for the estate of Eugene Emmick, theater chain owner.
The compromise was signed by Mrs. Villette Wilson for her adopted daughter, Marilyn Wilson, 15.
Testimony quoted Emmick, who died a year ago at the age of 78, as saying he put Marilyn out for adoption because he felt he was "too old to have a child around the house."

Teetotaler-Preacher
Saves English Saloon

FLAX BURTON, England (P) — The Rev. Percival Demuth, himself a teetotaler, was revealed today as the angel who saved the local saloon, called the Angel.
The village has only 300 residents and the pub hasn't been making much money. The brewer who own the Angel were about to close it when the 70-year-old Anglican rector intervened.
"The inn is our social center," he told the brewing company. "We all meet there so please keep it open." The brewers did.

Sarah Churchill Fined $50;
Apologizes for Drunkenness

MALIBU, Calif. (P) — Actress Sarah Churchill, head high and fighting to hold back the tears, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge, but explained: "I was more ill than drunk."
The 44-year-old actress, daughter of Britain's Sir Winston Churchill, was fined $50 Thursday in a Malibu court.
Her gloved hands gripped the back of a chair as she faced Judge Charles H. Woodmansee and answered, "I plead guilty to the charge." Given permission to make a statement, she continued: "I was more ill than drunk. I was alone in the beach house where I had gone to learn my lines for a television show."
"I have been under some strain these last months. I fully realize that anyone might have misunderstood the situation."
"I deeply regret any inconvenience I may have caused. The pain

Solons Question
His 'Accuracy'

Ag Aide Seeking Cut
In Crop Supports

WASHINGTON (P) — Hostile senators challenged the accuracy of Secretary of Agriculture Benson to his face today as he urged Congress to authorize lower farm price supports and ease crop production controls.
Chairman Ellender (D-La.) accused the secretary of making inaccurate statements to the Senate Agriculture Committee in support of President Eisenhower's farm proposals, sent to Congress in a special message Thursday.
Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said of Benson's testimony:
"The Federal Trade Commission would rule it out as false advertising."
"There is nothing false about it," Benson retorted, his voice rising in apparent heat.
Benson was attempting, at a public hearing by the Committee, to read a 24-page prepared statement urging swift approval of the storm-tossed administration farm proposals.
But an hour and 10 minutes after starting it, he had read only the first two pages.

BENSON CAME under fire almost from the first minute of his testimony, when he said he was happy to be able to report some favorable developments in agriculture, one of them that "prices received by farmers are running 3 per cent above a year ago."
As Eisenhower had done, Benson characterized major features of current farm programs as failures.

"We have tried to legislate prices artificially, without full consideration for the inevitable forces of supply and demand," he said.

"We have tried to control production artificially, without full consideration for the efficiency and ingenuity of farmers." Our farm programs, no matter how desirable in objective, have failed to get the job done."

BENSON PUT great stress on administrator proposals to give his department authority to set price supports for such basic crops as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, peanuts and dairy products as low as 60 per cent of parity. The present minimum is 75 per cent of parity.
Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.
A number of key legislators have said that major proposal by the administration stands no chance of adoption.

Benson said existing law, permitting price supports on these crops at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, is not flexible enough.
"The present range is too narrow," he said, "to permit the expansion of markets needed to absorb the increased production (Continued on Page Two)"

4 Utah Miners
Trapped in Pit

SPRING CANYON, Utah (P) — A cave-in trapped four men in the depths of a coal mine today, and rescuers said there was no way to tell whether they are alive.
The cave-in was believed caused by a "bounce" (an earth tremor) three miles deep in the Spring Canyon Coal Co. mine, Spring Canyon is in central Utah.
Charles Semken, Carbon County chief deputy sheriff, identified the men as Keith Anderson, 30, Bob William Daniels, 50, Dean Neilson, 27, all of Spring Canyon, and Cecilio Garcia, 25, of Helper.

Vicar Is Convinced
The Devil Duped Him

NETTLEHAM, England (P) — The Rev. George Herrington protested recently when a parishioner donated $2.80 to the church, specifying that it must be used to buy a chance in a government lottery.
The vicar finally relented, feeling sure the number wouldn't win. But it did and the church is $140 richer.
"I think the Devil must have been at work and confounded me," complained the vicar.

clearly left the way open for a tax cut in the future if the economy fails to make an expected rebound and requires stimulation.

The government's debt now exceeds $274 billion, less than $1 billion below the present ceiling. The all-time high was about $280 billion, reached in December 1955 when the legal limit was temporarily $281 billion.

Prior to the war in 1941 the debt was around $49 billion. By the end of the war, it had risen to around $270 billion.

Its lowest postwar level was reached in 1947-48, when it dropped to $252 billion due chiefly to wartime tax surpluses.

Heated Challenge Fired At Benson's Farm Plan

Quality of Yeggs Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—Safecrackers just aren't what they used to be. That's the opinion of detective Jim Maher who investigated a safecracking case Thursday at a warehouse here.

The yeggs spent about a half hour "peeling open," with the firm's tools, a safe which contained only index cards.

Maher reported the safe:

1. Had a "for sale" sign taped on top of it.
2. Had the combination numbers listed on top.
3. Was unlocked.

Ohio Democrat Boss Chides O'Neill Plan

COLUMBUS (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman today criticized Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill's decision to run for reelection on his record.

"I heartily agree with the governor's statement that he should stand on his administration's record in his bid for reelection," Coleman said.

"I feel certain that the people of Ohio, given the facts, are capable of rendering an accurate judgment of that record. I am certain too, that their judgment will be that the O'Neill administration has been one of the worst, one of the most inept administrations in the history of the state."

O'Neill announced for reelection Thursday at what was termed his largest press conference since taking office.

Describing the news conference as a "Hollywood extravaganza," Coleman said: "It is too bad that the governor does not put the same effort into press conferences for the purpose of giving the facts to the voters of Ohio."

The Democratic chairman termed 1957 a year marked by "indecision and government by trial and error" in the O'Neill administration. He said the governor's 1956 campaign was marked by extravagant claims, and added: "His announcement Wednesday was in the same vein with the single difference that he now has a highly paid staff of public relations experts to help him cover up his short-comings."

Columbus Man Seeks Senate

Michael Desmond, Columbus, publicity director of the Ohio Highway and Turnpike Assn. and former newspaper man, today announced he has petitions signed and notarized and shortly will file for the Democratic nomination for the two-year term as state senator from the 10th District—Franklin and Pickaway counties.

Desmond, 58, is a native of Perry County. He was a working newsman for 20 years, covering the Ohio Senate. For the last 10 years he has been publicity writer for Ohio Turnpike Committee and now the Ohio Highway and Turnpike Assn.

Snowbound Citizen Sends Bill to City

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A self-styled "dissatisfied taxpayer," Dante A. Mollo, went before the City Council with a complaint about last week's snowstorm.

He said he left his home the morning of Jan. 10 "in the best of spirits, but within a few minutes my good spirits had changed to despair."

The street had not been plowed and it took him an hour to get out, he said.

Mollo filed a claim for $32.06 of which $2.06 was an hour's lost pay and $50 for "mental anguish." The council referred the matter to a committee.

School Given Scare

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A bomb scare touched off a search of Central High School by a platoon of Arkansas National Guardsmen Thursday night, but no explosive was found.

Navy's Polaris IRBM Test Firing Labeled Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy launched a Polaris ballistic missile test vehicle here today. It was the first Polaris test officially identified as such.

Judging from its performance at the start, and until it disappeared down the Air Force missile test range, it was a highly successful shot.

The Polaris, noted for its fantastic speed, streaked away, straight as an arrow, toward its undisclosed target southeast.

The Lockheed missile was launched less than an hour after sunrise, into a cloudless sky.

Almost immediately after the launching, the Air Force Missile Test Center here confirmed it with the following announcement: "A test vehicle in the Navy Polaris program was fired from the missile test center today."

IT IS KNOWN that a number of Polaris test devices have been fired from this center within the last 12 months.

Polaris, named after the North Star, is the Navy's 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile. It was designed for launching from atomic powered submarines.

McElroy indicated that by early 1960 the Navy may have a fully developed Polaris, capable of being fired above or under water and of going the full 1,500-mile range. It would be ready for full scale testing and for quantity production by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., if the missile met requirements.

Sun's Corona May Extend To Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recent research suggests the earth may lie within a gaseous layer surrounding the sun, 93 million miles away.

Previously, the concept has been that the sun's corona, or outermost gaseous layer, extends only several hundred thousand miles into space.

Hugh Odishaw, executive secretary of the U. S. National Committee of the International Geophysical Year, told about this in discussing some of the research results so far during the 18-month IGY.

The IGY, now six months along, is a cooperative effort of 67 nations to learn more about the earth, its oceans and the cosmic environment surrounding it.

Odishaw's report in the journal Science dealt mainly with American research results. He said American scientists have come up with certain new observations of cosmic ray behavior which lead them to theorize that there may be important magnetic fields in outer space.

Asked about the corona and cosmic ray studies, Odishaw said:

"I feel that we are at the threshold of beginning to understand a bit more about the interplanetary medium—that is, the space between the planets. But it would be premature to speculate on what this means in terms of manned ventures into space."

Sarah Churchill Fined $50; Apologizes for Drunkenness

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Actress Sarah Churchill, head high and fighting to hold back the tears, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge, but explained: "I was more ill than drunk."

The 44-year-old actress, daughter of Britain's Sir Winston Churchill, was fined $50 Thursday in a Malibu court.

Her gloved hands gripped the back of a chair as she faced Judge Charles H. Woodmansee and answered, "I plead guilty to the charge." Given permission to make a statement, she continued: "I was more ill than drunk. I was alone in the beach house where I had gone to learn my lines for a television show."

"I have been under some strain these last months. I fully realize that anyone might have misunderstood the situation."

"I deeply regret any inconvenience I may have caused. The pain

above or below water, as well as from aboard ships.

Polaris reportedly will be the biggest and most complex missile the Navy ever has attempted to build. At the same time it will be smaller and lighter than the other IRBMs—the Air Force Thor and the Army Jupiter—in the nation's arsenal.

The operational Polaris probably will be about 50 feet tall—10 feet shorter than the Air Force and Army IRBMs—and 100 inches in diameter, and may be capable of carrying an atomic warhead of up to 1,000 pounds.

The Defense Department announced plans for Polaris only a year ago. Now it says, "the missile is well along in development. The program is high on the Navy's weapon priority list."

Secretary of Defense McElroy told the House Armed Services Committee this week that the Navy wants to invest $296 million in development of three atomic powered missile launching submarines.

McElroy indicated that by early 1960 the Navy may have a fully developed Polaris, capable of being fired above or under water and of going the full 1,500-mile range. It would be ready for full scale testing and for quantity production by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., if the missile met requirements.

Millionaire's Baby To Share in Estate

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—A high school girl put out for adoption by her millionaire father when she was a baby will receive about $200,000 under a court approved settlement of his estate.

Superior Judge Edmund E. Scott approved the settlement for the estate of Eugene Emmick, theater chain owner.

The compromise was signed by Mrs. Vilette Wilson for her adopted daughter, Marilyn Wilson, 15.

Testimony quoted Emmick, who died a year ago at the age of 78, as saying he put Marilyn out for adoption because he felt he was "too old to have a child around the house."

Teetotaler-Preacher Saves English Saloon

FLAX BURTON, England (AP)—The Rev. Percival Demuth, himself a teetotaler, was revealed today as the angel who saved the local saloon, called the Angel.

The village has only 300 residents and the pub hasn't been making much money. The brewers who own the Angel were about to close it when the 70-year-old Anglican rector intervened.

"The inn is our social center," he told the brewing company. "We all meet there so please keep it open." The brewers did.

Solons Question His 'Accuracy'

Ag Aide Seeking Cut In Crop Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hostile senators challenged the accuracy of Secretary of Agriculture Benson to his face today as he urged Congress to authorize lower farm price supports and ease crop production controls.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) accused the secretary of making inaccurate statements to the Senate Agriculture Committee in support of President Eisenhower's farm proposals, sent to Congress in a special message Thursday.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said of Benson's testimony:

"The Federal Trade Commission would rule it out as false advertising."

"There is nothing false about it," Benson retorted, his voice rising in apparent heat.

Benson was attempting, at a public hearing by the Committee, to read a 24-page prepared statement urging swift approval of the storm-tossed administration farm proposals.

But an hour and 10 minutes after starting it, he had read only the first two pages.

BENSON CAME under fire almost from the first minute of his testimony, when he said he was happy to be able to report some favorable developments in agriculture, one of them that "prices received by farmers are running 3 percent above a year ago."

As Eisenhower had done, Benson characterized major features of current farm programs as failures.

"We have tried to legislate prices artificially, without full consideration for the inevitable forces of supply and demand," he said.

"We have tried to control production artificially, without full consideration for the efficiency and ingenuity of farmers." Our farm programs, no matter how desirable in objective, have failed to get the job done."

BENSON PUT great stress on administrator proposals to give his department authority to set price supports for such basic crops as wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, peanuts and dairy products as low as 60 percent of parity. The present minimum is 75 percent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

A number of key legislators have said that major proposal by the administration stands no chance of adoption.

Benson said existing law, permitting price supports on these crops at between 75 and 90 percent of parity, is not flexible enough.

"The present range is too narrow," he said, "to permit the expansion of markets needed to absorb the increased production (Continued on Page Two)"

4 Utah Miners Trapped in Pit

SPRING CANYON, Utah (AP)—A cave-in trapped four men in the depths of a coal mine today, and rescuers said there was no way to tell whether they are alive.

The cave-in was believed caused by a "bounce" (an earth tremor) three miles deep in the Spring Canyon Coal Co. mine. Spring Canyon is in central Utah.

Charles Semken, Carbon County chief deputy sheriff, identified the men as Keith Anderson, 30, Bob William Daniels, 30, Dean Neilson, 27, all of Spring Canyon, and Cecilio Garcia, 25, of Helper.

Vicar Is Convinced The Devil Duped Him

NETTLEHAM, England (AP)—The Rev. George Herrington protested recently when a parishioner donated $2.80 to the church, specifying that it must be used to buy a chance in a government lottery.

The vicar finally relented, feeling sure the number wouldn't win. But it did and the church is $140 richer.

"I think the Devil must have been at work and confounded me," complained the vicar.

Stock Mart Prices Show New Retreat

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market retreated in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal stocks dropped fractions to a point or more.

Steels, aircrafts, oils, rails and coppers were off while Thursday's closing prices while motors, airlines and building material issues were mixed.

The opening was active as the market continued its downward trend of late Thursday after the enthusiastic early rise on news of lower margin requirements. Prices slipped a bit more then held fairly well as the lower levels.

Business and industrial news continued to be drab.

Lukens Steel, Goodyear, Zenith and Douglas Aircraft were among the worst losers, dropping more than a point each.

Other losses of about a point were taken by U. S. Steel, General Dynamics, Kennecott, International Paper, Chesapeake & Ohio and Gulf Oil.

Despite the apparently successful firing of its Polaris missile, Lockheed eased.

U. S. government bonds were off.

Nurses Schedule Meet

The Registered Nurse's Assn. of Pickaway County will hold its meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Robert Johnson, Woodland Drive.

Atlantic City, N. J., is built on an island, about one mile wide and 10 miles in length. Its famed "Boardwalk" is 5½ miles in length.

CAIRO (AP)—The crown prince of Yemen says his southern Arabian kingdom will do everything it can to take away Britain's southern Aden protectorate and unify it with Yemen. He adds that the Soviet Union is helping.

The vague boundary between Crown Prince Seif ul Islam el Badr's feudal kingdom and the British protectorate in the southwest corner of the Arabian Peninsula has been the scene of frequent clashes since early last year.

Yemen and the Soviet Union signed an economic agreement last year.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's new education minister has appealed to Caracas students to end their demonstrations against the regime of President Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The speech by Dr. Humberto Fernandez Moran over a nationwide radio hookup Thursday night was taken as an indication of the government's concern over the student outbreaks.

The demonstrations have continued for four days.

The country has been in a constant state of tension since the abortive New Year's Day rebellion by disgruntled air force units.

HAVANA (AP)—Rebels reportedly led by Fidel Castro himself swept into the farm town of Veguitas Thursday, fought a bloody battle with government forces and retreated to their mountain hideouts.

It was the second bold rebel raid in three days in eastern Cuba. Castro's forces blockaded the sugar shipping city of Manzanillo, 20 miles west of Veguitas, all day Tuesday.

The rebels also have been burning sugar cane fields and farm buildings in an effort to cripple President Fulgencio Batista's economic program.

Many rebels were reported killed and wounded and about 20 to 30 government troops were slain. The rebels reportedly held the town of 8,000 residents for two hours.

Solons Question

which our farms will likely produce."

Such a reduction in the minimum support level should be accompanied, he said, with authority to increase by as much as 50 per cent the acreage allotments for all these major crops except corn. Elimination of allotments altogether was proposed for corn.

Little controversy developed over some other proposals in the farm message Eisenhower sent to Congress, and these appeared likely to win approval.

There was some evidence that Congress members from consumer-minded states would support the President's entire package plan in the hope it would cut both food costs and government spending for farm supports.

MUCH OF THE comment was along party lines, with Democrats leading in the criticism. But some Republicans joined in the opposition to various phases of the 14-point program.

The opposition centered on the move to drop minimum price supports to 60 per cent of parity on wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco (the six basic crops) and on dairy products. But significantly there was only a scattering of Democratic cries to try to go back to the rigid 90 per cent support for basic crops and thus revive a battle the President won two years ago.

These other points also drew heavy criticism:

Legislation to give the secretary of agriculture discretion to increase acreage planting allotments for wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts as much as 50 per cent above levels now provided, if the markets were available.

Repeal of the escalator clauses under which price supports on basic crops are increased when supplies decline.

On the other hand, there was wide support for the Eisenhower proposals to extend Public Law 480 through which the government disposes of farm surpluses abroad to continue the Wool Act with its incentive payments, to extend the school milk program, to expand research seeking new uses for farm products, to eliminate next year the acreage reserve in the soil bank and concentrate on the conservation reserve, and to eliminate acreage allotments for corn.

Local Twins, Walnut Boy, Elks Winners

Flo and Jo Goldschmidt, twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Goldschmidt, 901 Atwater Ave., and Don Forquer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Forquer, Walnut Twp., are winners of the local B.P.O. Elks Leadership contest.

Each will receive a $25 savings bond, and are eligible to compete in the district contest.

The winners of the district contest will receive a $50 savings bond and will go on to the state contest. The prize in the state contest is a $100 savings bond. State winners are eligible to compete in the national contest for a $1000 prize.

Mayor Issues Proclamation

Mayor Ben Gordon today proclaimed January 19-25 as Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Week. Citing the Jaycees for its civic work, he issued the following proclamation:

Whereas, the citizens of Circleville recognize the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and
Whereas, the affiliated state and community chapters of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce have set aside the week of January 19-25 to observe the founding of the Jaycees;

Therefore, I, Ben Gordon, mayor of the city of Circleville do hereby proclaim the week of January 19-25 as Jaycee Week and urge all citizens of Circleville to give full consideration to the future service of the Jaycees.

Mason Furniture Expansion Underway at Kinsey's Site

Mason Furniture has underway a $7,500 expansion program which will add about 4,200 square feet of display space to the store.

The furniture retailer has leased the building formerly occupied by Kinsey's at 125 N. Court St., and adjacent to Mason's longtime location at 121-123 N. Court St. The building is owned by William Crist.

Karl Mason reported plans call for an all-glass front, two openings inside the store connecting the new room to the present store area, all new light fixtures, redecoration and carpeted floor over about three-fourths of the new area. E. W. Weiler is contractor for the work.

Mason said a complete line of maple furniture will be featured in the new area. Plans call for opening the new portion of the store about March 1.

The first floor area has about 4,200 square feet which will be added to the about 10,000 square feet in the present store. The basement will be used for storage. Two upper floors are unoccupied and virtually inaccessible since there is no stairway.

Brucellosis Testing Program Well Underway in Townships

This test is free to herd owners.

It is suggested that herd owners contact the veterinarians testing in their particular township to get the work done before cattle are turned out in the spring.

The testing will be done by county veterinarians as assigned by the Federal Veterinary. These assignments have been made as follows: Harrison, Madison, and Walnut Twp. by Dr. Curtis Cronley; Circleville and parts of Jackson and Salt Creek Twp. by Floyd Dunlap; Deercreek, Monroe, and part of Muhlenberg Twp. by Dr. Paul Fenstermaker; Wayne, Washington, and part of Jackson Twp. by Dr. Ed Hedges; Darby and Scioto Twp. by Dr. Dale Miller; part of Muhlenberg Twp. by Mr. James Pickel; Pickaway and part of Salt Creek Twp. by Dr. Wells Wilson; and Perry Twp. by Drs. L. M. and Dean Tarbill.

All cattle must be tested except those which have a negative milk ring test, artificial herds and beef cattle covered by a feeder permit. In the past, milk samples have been collected in each township by local people. Future samples will be collected at all dairies where milk is sold.

The testing program is progressing very rapidly in most townships in Pickaway County.

Report Heard
On Grandstand

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce met last night at Wardell's Party Home for a dinner meeting. Installation and orientation of five new members was conducted.

The new members are Kenneth Crawford, men's buyer at J. C. Penney's, Kenneth Smith, asst. manager of the City Loan, James Wilson, coach and teacher as Jackson Twp. School, Richard Fisher, coach and teacher at Circleville High School and Jack Weikert, coach and teacher at Circleville High School.

Glenn McCoy gave a report on the proposed grandstand at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. He stated that it will consist of concrete block and flexicore. It will be 72 feet long and 48 feet in depth. McCoy said that if it were 17 feet high it would have a clearance of nine feet four inches underneath for two rest rooms plus two concession stands on either side.

The total cost of the grandstand was estimated at $6,300, with the major portion of this cost being the flexicore at $3,240. No roof was considered in the estimate.

JOHN Fissell reported that the Jaycees had approximately $1,500 toward this fund which was received on four harness racing matinees held here in past years. Fissell also reported that outside donations have been promised amounting to $1,200 for a total of $2,700 for a start on this project. It was also reported that promises of other donations have been received and that discounts on mortar and material have been assured by local businessmen.

A motion was made and seconded to present this proposed plan to the Pickaway County Agricultural Society for approval before going ahead with the project. This motion passed unanimously.

Woman Felled By Gas Fumes

Mrs. Robert Brown, 818 S. Washington St., received emergency treatment when overcome by gas fumes in her home last night at 8:30 p. m.

Oxygen was administered by the Circleville Fire Department's emergency crew. Firemen said the fumes came from an unvented gas heater.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown felt the effects of the fumes while watching television. She was overcome before she could get out of the house.

Chief Palmer Wise said the only apparent after effects were headaches suffered by both Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

U.S. Mothers in China Get Visit Extension

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China has granted three American mothers permission to stay another week in Shanghai and Peiping visiting their sons imprisoned on spy charges.

Mrs. Ruth Redmond, Yonkers, N. Y., said she has formally asked Premier Chou Enlai to release her 38-year-old son Hugh.

The one week extension was also announced for Mrs. Mary Downey, New Britain, Conn., visiting her son John, and Mrs. Jessie Fecteau, Lynn, Mass., visiting her son Richard.

Cleveland Dairymen Hit For Surpluses

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charles K. Laughton, manager of the Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland, says Cleveland area dairy farmers are milking away their profits.

He told the co-operative's annual membership meeting Thursday that milk surpluses are cancelling out price premiums.

"We are working against ourselves if our increased production knocks down our price," he told the dairy farmers.

Milk receipts in the Cleveland market last month totaled more than 97 million pounds for a new record for December and a new high mark for 1957.

Laughton said the consequence was a supply-demand penalty under the federal milk marketing order that subtracts 19 cents a hundredweight from the January fluid milk price. This wipes out about two-thirds of the 30-cent premium negotiated by the federation with handlers.

He said the Akron milk impasse is "an unfortunate situation that is costing farmers a lot of money" and predicted the deadlock might last through January.

Laughton said the diverted milk has been diverting milk from six Akron dairies since the first of the year in a dispute over a new price agreement.

After the final report is approved, there will be a public hearing on location of the route. Today's report tentatively places the route 1,000 feet north of existing Route 35.

The producers demanded $5.50 a hundredweight for Class I (bottle) milk. The dairies offered $4.82.

Stock Mart Prices Show New Retreat

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market retreated in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal stocks dropped fractions to a point or more.

Steels, aircrafts, oils, rails and coppers were well below Thursday's closing prices while motors, airlines and building material issues were mixed.

The opening was active as the market continued its downward trend of late Thursday after the enthusiastic early rise on news of lower margin requirements. Prices slipped a bit more then held fairly well as the lower levels.

Business and industrial news continued to be drab.

Lukens Steel, Goodyear, Zenith and Douglas Aircraft were among the worst losers, dropping more than a point each.

Other losses of about a point were taken by U. S. Steel, General Dynamics, Kennecott, International Paper, Chesapeake & Ohio and Gulf Oil.

Despite the apparently successful firing of its Polaris missile, Lockheed eased.

U. S. government bonds were off.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's new education minister has appealed to Caracas students to end their demonstrations against the regime of President Marcos Perez Jimenez.

The speech by Dr. Humberto Fernandez Moran over a nationwide radio hookup Thursday night was taken as an indication of the government's concern over the student outbreaks.

The demonstrations have continued for four days.

The country has been in a constant state of tension since the abortive New Year's Day rebellion by disgruntled air force units.

HAVANA (AP)—Rebels reportedly led by Fidel Castro himself swept into the farm town of Veguitas Thursday, fought a bloody battle with government forces and retreated to their mountain hideouts.

It was the second bold rebel raid in three days in eastern Cuba. Castro's forces blockaded the sugar shipping city of Manzanillo, 20 miles west of Veguitas, all day Tuesday.

The rebels also have been burning sugar cane fields and farm buildings in an effort to cripple President Fulgencio Batista's economic program.

Many rebels were reported killed and wounded and about 20 to 30 government troops were slain. The rebels reportedly held the town of 8,000 residents for two hours.

Solons Question

Such a reduction in the minimum support level should be accompanied, he said, with authority to increase by as much as 50 per cent the acreage allotments for all these major crops except corn. Elimination of allotments altogether was proposed for corn.

Little controversy developed over some other proposals in the farm message Eisenhower sent to Congress, and these appeared likely to win approval.

There was some evidence that Congress members from consumer-minded states would support the President's entire package plan in the hope it would cut both food costs and government spending for farm supports.

MUCH OF THE comment was along party lines, with Democrats leading in the criticism. But some Republicans joined in the opposition to various phases of the 14-point program.

The opposition centered on the move to drop minimum price supports to 60 per cent of parity on wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco (the six basic crops) and on dairy products. But significantly there was only a scattering of Democratic cries to try to go back to the rigid 90 per cent support for basic crops and thus revive a battle the President won two years ago.

These other points also drew heavy criticism:

Legislation to give the secretary of agriculture discretion to increase acreage planting allotments for wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts as much as 50 per cent above levels now provided, if the markets were available.

Repeal of the escalator clauses under which price supports on basic crops are increased when supplies decline.

On the other hand, there was wide support for the Eisenhower proposals to extend Public Law 480 through which the government disposes of farm surpluses abroad to continue the Wool Act with its incentive payments, to extend the school milk program, to expand research seeking new uses for farm products, to eliminate next year the acreage reserve in the soil bank and concentrate on the conservation reserve, and to eliminate acreage allotments for corn.

Mayor Issues Proclamation

Mayor Ben Gordon today proclaimed January 19-25 as Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce Week. Citing the Jaycees for its civic work, he issued the following proclamation:

Whereas, the citizens of Circleville recognize the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and

Whereas, the affiliated state and community chapters of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce have set aside the week of January 19-25 to observe the founding of the Jaycees;

Whereas, this organization of young men through projects of community service is building leadership within its ranks for the future of our city;

Therefore, I, Ben Gordon, mayor of the city of Circleville do hereby proclaim the week of January 19-25 as Jaycee Week and urge all citizens of Circleville to give full consideration to the future service of the Jaycees.

Mason Furniture Expansion Underway at Kinsey's Site

Mason Furniture has underway a $7,500 expansion program which will add about 4,200 square feet of display space to the store.

The furniture retailer has leased the building formerly occupied by Kinsey's at 125 N. Court St., and adjacent to Mason's longtime location at 121-123 N. Court St. The building is owned by William Crist.

Karl Mason reported plans call for an all-glass front, two openings inside the store connecting the new room to the present store area, all new light fixtures, redecoration and carpeted floor over about three-fourths of the new area. E. W. Weiler is contractor for the work.

Mason said a complete line of maple furniture will be featured in the new area. Plans call for opening the new portion of the store about March 1.

The first floor area has about 4,200 square feet which will be added to the about 10,000 square feet in the present store. The basement will be used for storage. Two upper floors are unoccupied and virtually inaccessible since there is no stairway.

Brucellosis Testing Program Well Underway in Townships

The Federal and State attempt to eradicate Brucellosis in cattle became law July 26, 1957. It is now compulsory for all cattle owners to cooperate in the radiation program.

All cattle must be tested except those which have a negative milk ring test, artificial herds and beef cattle covered by a feeder permit. In the past, milk samples have been collected in each township by local people. Future samples will be collected at all dairies where milk is sold.

The testing program is progressing very rapidly in most townships in Pickaway County.

Red Propaganda Offensive Is Aimed at Latin America

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of articles telling how America's knowhow and aid are fighting communism in the cold war abroad.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Communist governments are ready and eager to send know-how teams to Latin America to compete with the Americans there.

Moscow already has mounted a heavy propaganda offensive keyed

to the advantages of Latin-American economic cooperation with Communist bloc nations.

Thus far the Latin Americans seem unimpressed. U.S. aid programs and technicians alike are highly popular. Local leaders would consider it disastrous if the United States cut back either on the program or the U.S. personnel engaged in technical assistance.

In more prosperous areas of Latin America, the International Cooperation Administration program, successor to Point Four, is insignificant. But where sizable programs are under way, the response is enthusiastic. Here is a rundown:

BRAZIL: The program is relatively modest, costing about 4 1/2 million dollars a year. There are 135 U. S. technicians.

Technical assistance is popular, except among the Communists.

PERU: The consensus here is that U.S. technical assistance is a boon, and highly successful.

The program is staffed by 56 North Americans and 2,600 Peruvians. Of the North Americans, only 10 per cent are in administrative jobs.

CHILE: The aid program has been showered with praise. Fifty three Americans work with 280 Chileans.

MEXICO: Most of the ICA program concerns training Mexicans to do better jobs and to pass know-how on to others. It costs Uncle Sam about $700,000 a year. There are only 10 Americans on the permanent staff.

The Mexico program concentrates on an industrial productivity center.

PARAGUAY: The technical aid program bore much fruit in improving ancient farming methods in this small country.

CUBA: There are only 17 Americans working on technical aid programs in Cuba. It costs $370,000 annually.

URUGUAY: There is only a small ICA staff in Uruguay. But, said a source close to the government, "the departure of U.S. aid technicians would be deplorable."

Stockholders, Labor, Tax Collectors Eye Trend in Economy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The profit sleighride is coming to an end for many business firms after a long period of always zooming faster than the year before.

In today's troubled economy this is watched as closely by labor leaders and tax collectors as it is by the stockholders.

And such so-called needles to the economy as changing the rules on margins in stock market deals can scarcely affect the trend on the broader front.

Few business firms are operating at a loss. But earnings statements now show that—for an increasing number—profits after taxes are running behind the previous year.

Most blame rising operating costs that higher prices can't offset.

The trend interests labor because this will be a year of hard bargaining and the unions always use profits as a talking point in asking for higher wages. For several years they have argued that increased wage scales obviously hadn't halted the climb in profits.

The tax collector is interested on three counts: 1. The corporate income tax brings in billions of dollars; 2. The dividends that firms pay out brings in still more revenue from personal income tax payments. And 3. If the profit squeeze gets worse, it could mean still further cutbacks in production and employment, with the tax collector a partner in such losses in earnings and personal income.

The first 100 corporations to report on their operations in the last 12 month period show 35 falling behind their previous year's performance.

Combined the 100 show net profits of $1,223,384,233, a gain of 5.7 per cent over the previous year's total of $1,156,531,366. The list is weighted heavily on the upside by gains in the service industries.

Most of the 100 have fiscal years that end before the calendar year, and this may make them look better, since their statements don't cover the last month or so of 1957 when the going was getting tougher for many, but do include the final weeks of 1956, a period of general good times.

In addition to the incumbents, the committee endorsed Willard C. Campbell of Columbus for the Jan. 1 term on the Ohio Supreme Court.

Two vacancies on the GOP committee were filled Thursday. New members are Mrs. Mary Loomis of Wapakoneta in the Fourth District to succeed Mrs. Betty Kominski of New Bremen, who resigned, and Mrs. Gernell Vickers of Chillicothe in the Sixth District, who succeeds the late Mrs. Madeline Hoyt of Cincinnati.

6 Seeking Post At Lebanon Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—At least six persons have applied informally for the superintendency of the Southern Ohio Reformatory near Lebanon which won't be completed until 1960.

M. C. Koblenz, chief of the State Division of Correction, said no thought had been given yet to selection of a superintendent for the medium security institution, which will cost about 11.5 million dollars.

The institution will have a staff of about 250, comparable to that of the London Prison Farm. Superintendents of medium security institutions now get $13,500 a year. Koblenz said no thought had been given to the salary the superintendent of the Southern Ohio Reformatory will get.

The institution is under construction. Its main purpose will be to relieve overcrowding at Mansfield Reformatory. Koblenz said that reformatory, with 2,400 inmates inside the walls and 600 at honor camps, is 33 per cent overcrowded now.

Koblenz said the superintendent of the new reformatory will come from the ranks of the Division of Correction, probably from among its superintendents and wardens and their assistants or the central office.

The state opened bids this week on the water and sewage facilities for the reformatory. It opened bids previously on the first two of three construction phases.

Enough water and sewage facilities were provided so a canning plant could be served later on. There are canning plants at London Prison Farm and Mansfield Reformatory.

Several maintenance men will be stationed at the Southern Ohio Reformatory later this year as construction progresses, so they will know the exact location of service and utility lines, Koblenz said. This could save the state thousands of dollars later on, he said.

because if trouble develops in the lines they will know exactly where to look for it.

The institution will be completed enough in 1959 to house 700-800 inmates. It will house 1,500 inmates when it is finished.

Pennsy To Cut 2 Ohio Trains

Cincy-Xenia-Columbus Service Halting Feb. 16

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad has notified the Utilities Commission it will discontinue two passenger trains between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Feb. 16 because they are not paying for themselves.

One train, No. 76, leaves Cincinnati at 2 p.m. daily except Sunday and arrives in Pittsburgh daily at 9:15 p.m., after going through Xenia, Columbus, Newark, Coshocton and Steubenville. The other, No. 79, leaves Pittsburgh daily at 10:40 p.m. and arrives in Cincinnati at 6:45 a.m.

The railroad still would operate four other trains between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. Railroad attorneys said the "Cincinnati Limited" would provide good service for persons using the trains that will be cut off.

The "Cincinnati Limited" will leave Cincinnati at 5:05 p.m. under a schedule that goes into effect Feb. 16 and will arrive at Pittsburgh at 11:39 p.m. It also will leave Pittsburgh at 2:09 a.m. and arrive in Cincinnati at 8:40 a.m.

The railroad said recent wage increase and a "mounting passenger deficit" make the discontinuance necessary. It said both trains operated at a $45,843 loss during a 12-month period that ended last Nov. 30.

A railroad is permitted to discontinue trains if other of its trains remain to serve the affected area. But, if protests develop, the Utilities Commission will hold a public hearing to determine the adequacy of remaining service.

The Pennsylvania last Oct. 27 discontinued four trains between Columbus and Indiana points. Hearings on adequacy of remaining service will be held early in

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a neurotic wife whom I think needs mental attention. Things are going from bad to worse in our marriage. Most of the trouble is about my drinking; and my wife complains that I don't make an effort to pay bills on time. But they do get paid eventually, and many people are in the same boat, so I don't worry too much about that.

After work I stop at my usual hangout for a few drinks with friends, for an hour or so. I feel entitled to this recreation and don't see why I have to be on time for dinner with the family every night. Our children eat by themselves, watching TV; and my wife hardly eats at all.

When I get home, little is said between us. The children don't give me a warm greeting; and every chance they get, they tell me what a selfish inconsiderate father I am for seeking nightly pleasures without thinking of my family.

Why should a man give up everything when he gets married? I have a right to his privacy. I feel I am supporting a family and that is enough. My wife says the drinking money should be spent for winter clothes for the family and other necessities. I don't agree.

She is a good manager, a good housekeeper and cook. She helps the children with their school work and never goes out alone, except to market. Yet I find myself disliking her more and more each day. Why is this?

When she was a job holder for a while, she applied her earnings to the household. And I feel if she wants extras now, she should get a job again. After all, being a housewife isn't a full day's work.

E. D.

DEAR E.D.: Your letter reads like a grim jest at your own expense. It sounds indeed as if you might be trying to say, in an ironic way, just how wrong-headed you are.

You are pretty much of a heel, all down the line, in my opinion. Also you are a boob and a bit of a fool. You just aren't smart. For example, you ask with a wisecrack air: "Why should a man give up everything when he gets married?" That's like asking: "Why should I leave the ground, if I am going on a plane trip?"

In order to enter into the married state, and to discover, create, increase and profoundly enjoy its rewards (which the single man cannot know), you have to leave bachelor patterns behind. Otherwise, you don't arrive at being

In your present selfishness you don't belong anywhere, nor make sense anywhere, in the national scheme of life. You are lost between two camps, and trying to drown your confusion in drink. So why don't you get mental treatment; and thus give your wife a chance to relax and be happy, and gracious?

GOP Office Holders To Get Backing by State Chieftains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Incumbent Republican office holders will be going into the May primary elections with the full backing of the Republican State Committee.

They were assured of the state group's endorsement after a "harmony" meeting Thursday.

Ray C. Bliss, state GOP chairman, said only one of the 34 committee members present voted against the endorsement resolution. The dissenter was not identified.

Incumbents endorsed on the primary slate are Gov. C. William O'Neill, Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Treasurer Roger W. Tracy, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart and U. S. Sen. John W. Brickner.

O'Neill Outlines 10-Point Program To Aid Aged in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill has laid down a 10-point program to help solve problems faced by Ohioans past 65 years of age.

"Our older citizens, faced with serious handicaps and disadvantages, must be given every possible opportunity to live normal lives during their waning years," the governor said.

He addressed the governor's conference on problems of the aging here.

"The aged have increased not only in numbers, but also in percentage of our population," O'Neill said in his prepared talk. The increase has been accompanied by a decrease in the number who are gainfully employed, he added.

The governor said Ohioans past 65 tend to lose jobs earlier, remain unemployed longer and exhaust their jobless benefits sooner than younger persons. He added that they are also at a disadvantage in buying or renting housing and generally must live on reduced incomes.

To help solve those problems, O'Neill listed ten goals outlined by an interdepartmental committee he created last September to study the problem.

The goals are:

1. Equal opportunity to be gainfully employed.
2. Adequate retirement income for health and participation in community life.
3. Homes of their own or residence in suitable private homes.
4. Institutional care, when necessary, in a home-like atmosphere.
5. Adequate nutrition, preventive medicine and proper medical care.
6. Mental and physical rehabilitation when possible for those chronically ill, disabled or unemployed.

7. Encouragement to participate in recreational, educational, religious and civic activities.

8. Provision for social services such as counseling and vocational training.

9. Special training courses for professional workers to aid the aged and increased research on their problems.

10. Increased emphasis on the right of older citizens to free choice, self help and planning of their own futures.

Red Propaganda Offensive Is Aimed at Latin America

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of articles telling how America's knowhow and aid are fighting communism in the cold war abroad.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
Communist governments are ready and eager to send know-how teams to Latin America to compete with the Americans there.

Moscow already has mounted a heavy propaganda offensive keyed

to the advantages of Latin-American economic cooperation with Communist bloc nations.

Thus far the Latin Americans seem unimpressed. U.S. aid programs and technicians alike are highly popular. Local leaders would consider it disastrous if the United States cut back either on the program or the U.S. personnel engaged in technical assistance.

In more prosperous areas of Latin America, the International Cooperation Administration program, successor to Point Four, is insignificant. But where sizable programs are under way, the response is enthusiastic. Here is a rundown:

BRAZIL: The program is relatively modest, costing about 4½ million dollars a year. There are 135 U. S. technicians.

Technical assistance is popular, except among the Communists. PERU: The consensus here is that U.S. technical assistance is a boon, and highly successful.

The program is staffed by 56 North Americans and 2,600 Peruvians. Of the North Americans, only 10 per cent are in administrative jobs.

CHILE: The aid program has been showered with praise. Fifty three Americans work with 280 Chileans.

MEXICO: Most of the ICA program concerns training Mexicans to do better jobs and to pass know-how on to others. It costs Uncle Sam about $700,000 a year. There are only 10 Americans on the permanent staff.

The Mexico program concentrates on an industrial productivity center.

PARAGUAY: The technical aid program bore much fruit in improving ancient farming methods in this small country.

CUBA: There are only 17 Americans working on technical aid programs in Cuba. It costs $570,000 annually.

URUGUAY: There is only a small ICA staff in Uruguay. But, said a source close to the government, "the departure of U.S. aid technicians would be deplorable."

Credit Action Forestalls Dip

A new lowering of its credit standards has been announced by the Federal Housing Administration. The move will be watched with keen interest to see if it accomplishes what is intended — give the house-building business a shot in the arm.

But the outcome will have wider significance than for the homebuilders. It will test the theory of whether the federal government can crank the economy into higher speed at will.

In the past several years Americans have been assured repeatedly that there can never be another depression because there are many "built-in" safeguards now. A number of these are usually listed — money now managed by government, bank deposits insured, savings accounts insured, farm prices supported, wage rates supported by powerful unions, unemployment cushioned by insurance, old people protected by government insurance and company pensions, and the fact that it is now government policy by law to seek full employment.

The increased role of the government is woven through most of these supposed safeguards against a recession that would send the economy into a tailspin.

There is every indication that the federal government is now taking off the brake and starting to press on the accelerator. The new FHA policy will permit home-buyers to allot more of their income to home loan payments. Thus some mortgages turned down in the past on grounds of insufficient income may now be eligible.

Also, the new FHA policy will be more lenient on the inclusion of the cost of kitchen appliances and air conditioning in home mortgages.

The effect will not be immediate, but this and other "loosening" actions in the offing will be of extreme importance. If they work, the country will be able to bank more heavily on the idea that there can no longer be a depression in America, because government action will always forestall one.

No 20th Century Casanova

NEW YORK — "The 20th century woman is supposed to have everything," said author Leonard Levinson, "but in one way she has been cheated."

"The 18th century woman had something the modern woman knows about only through hearsay—and that is Casanova. If the 20th century has produced a lover to match him, he is still anonymous."

Levinson, who has just edited a condensation of Jacques Casanova's famous memoirs, is convinced that to compare any of today's international gigolos of millionaire playboys to the great Venetian boudoir athlete is like comparing a painted rosebud to a rainbow.

"History has been most unfair to Casanova," he said. "Many people think he was either a fictional character or an awful big liar. But the more we check his story the more we find he told the truth."

Levinson, who has compiled for the first time a list of 154 romantic affairs by Casanova, thinks it is unfair to write him off as a wolf who preyed on defenseless womanhood.

"Actually, there have been few men in history more the victim of women," he said stoutly.

"He was a man eternally in love, he meant it—at the time. He could look across a room at a woman and fall instantly in love with her. He did have a low boiling point."

"He did love them and leave them, as the saying goes. But that was because he loved one thing more even than he did women and that was his freedom."

"But he always left them happy. Casanova could always go back to the ladies he had loved in the past, even a dozen years later, and—wham!—they were in love all over again. Sometimes they would introduce him to their children who, on occasion, bore a marked resemblance to him."

Casanova was no matinee idol in looks. He was tall, dark, strong, hawk-eyed, hawk-nosed. He was also more than a mere pleaser of the ladies.

"He was a man of all-around talent, the king of opportunists," said Levinson. "He was a self-made aristocrat. During his life he was a preacher, an abbe, an actor, a poet, playwright, novelist, gambler, diplomat, jailbird, scientist, traveler, mining expert, doctor, lawyer, violinist, mathematician, mystic and espionage agent."

"To equal him today you'd have to merge the various abilities of such people as John Barrymore, Mike Todd, Nick the Greek, Frank Sinatra, Ernest Hemingway, Howard Hughes and Burton Holmes, and even then there'd be something missing."

Gates Out, but Not Commies

The closing of the "Daily Worker" and the resignation of John Gates from the Communist Party may give the impression that that party is dead. John Gates, editor of the "Daily Worker" and once the commissar of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade which fought in the Spanish Civil War, has been an important figure in the Communist Party. He had served a term in prison under the Smith Act.

Since the death of Stalin, there has been a split in the American Communist Party between those who accept Moscow's word absolutely and those who are critical of the Kremlin. Among the many who have resigned from the party under these circumstances has been Howard Fast, the writer, who in Soviet Russia has been acclaimed as the foremost American author of this generation.

The "Daily Worker" had been in existence 34 years. The reason given for the suspension of the publication is lack of financial support. This is only true to the extent that Soviet Russia would not support a newspaper edited by the Right Deviationist, John Gates. The American Communist Party has never been short of funds, such being provided either by rich Americans who wish to remake the world or by the Kremlin.

In February 1957, at the 16th National Convention of the American Communist Party, a potent quarrel took place between the Kremlin crowd and the Right Wing who were attempting to follow Earl Browder's concept of American exceptionalism, that is, that economic and social conditions in the United States are different from other countries and that therefore the rules set up by the Kremlin cannot be applied to this country.

Soviet Russia requires each Communist Party in every country to be a branch of the Russian party and subservient to it. During World War II because communications were difficult, Browder was able to establish a nationalistic Communist Party in the United States. Immediately after the war, Browder was expelled from the American party. However, American Communists had experienced a measure of freedom from Soviet dicta and some preferred it. Furthermore, as the cold war progressed, Russia tended to ignore the party and to depend more and more upon spies and agents whose job was not so much agitation and propaganda as it was, and is, corruption and sabotage.

Those who favor being subservient to Moscow under any circumstances, are led by William Z. Foster and Eugene Dennis who have long been party functionaries. Opposed to them is a group led by John Gates, editor of the "Daily Worker," who employed this party newspaper to advocate his point of view. Gates has held that Russian Communism, inconsistent, racist in the sense that it has become overly anti-Semitic, violently anti-American, in fact, is forcing upon every member of the party an attitude of treason.

The Gates faction sought to sell the medication, Marxism, in a more beautiful package, even one wrapped in the American flag. This sentence may sound as though I question the sincerity of Gates's motives; I do not. Many Communists have faced the proposition that they cannot submit to the Kremlin demand that they be robots, without thought or emotion.

In the August 1957 issue of the Soviet periodical "Kommunist," John Gates was identified by B. N. Ponomarev, member of the Central Committee of the Russian Communist Party, as a revisionist. Such a mention is equivalent as a warning of early excommunication.

In November 1957, representatives of the Soviet Communist Party and 11 other Communist controlled countries signed a joint declaration in Moscow pledging their support to Marxist-Leninist principles and denouncing revisionism as the principal present danger to the party. That cooked Gates's goose within the party. Either the American party had to become independent or throw Gates out. They threw Gates out.

The closing of the "Daily Worker" therefore was accomplished by the Kremlin with the object of proving who is the boss of the American Communist Party. Obviously, it is Nikita Khrushchev.

Earl Browder in his lectures at Rutgers University makes the point that the dogmatist is often hypnotized by the logic of the word, but that is not the sole explanation. If Soviet Russia loses the discipline over Communist Parties, it loses an effective arm.

For it, it has to substitute espionage and sabotage corps. It is sound for the Kremlin to discipline those who dare, for any reason, to show any signs of independence.

Fulton County Wins Nod for 'Best Fair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Myers Y. Cooper trophy for the best Ohio fair of 1957 has been awarded to Fulton County. Presentation was at the closing session of the Ohio Fair Managers Assn. meeting Thursday.

Fulton County had earlier been named the winner of the Division C competition, counties with 24,000-35,000 population.

Other division winners include Cuyahoga, Division A (over 65,000); Wood, Division B (35,000-65,000); and Gallia, Division D (24,000 or less).

Fourteen counties were entered in the competition for the trophy, which was presented by former governor Myers Y. Cooper. They include Division A, Cuyahoga, Lorain, Mahoning and Muskingum; Division B, Huron, Miami and Wood; Division C, Fulton, Mercer, and Pickaway; and Division D, Gallia and Morgan.

During the business session Thursday all officers were re-elected: James D. Murray, president; Russell E. Alt, first vice president; Bryan P. Sandles, second vice president; Miss Goldie V. Scheible, executive secretary, and Henry G. Richards, treasurer.

Some counties in Virginia prohibit Sunday fishing.

Antidote for Aspirin

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Poisons cause more than 6,000 deaths in the United States each year. One of the biggest reasons, as far as children are concerned, is a very common and very useful drug found in almost every home—Aspirin.

In a recent year, the last one for which I have statistics, salicylates caused 89 American deaths. Of this number, 72 of the victims were less than five years old. Thirty-one of these fatalities were traced to over-doses of aspirin.

Thirty-one deaths represent an alarming figure, especially when you realize that aspirin probably is available in your home right now.

The first thing to do when your youngster swallows an overdose of aspirin—the candy-coated variety is the most enticing to youngsters—is to call your doctor.

Then, give the child two tablespoons of powdered burnt toast, one spoonful of milk of magnesia and four spoons of strong tea.

The next step is to induce vomiting. The easiest method is simply to place your child over your lap in "spanking position" and place the blunt end of a spoon, or your finger, at the back of his throat.

Or give him two tablespoons of salt in warm water, or soap and warm water, or a tablespoon of mustard.

After he has vomited, give him a tablespoon of sodium bicarb in a quart of warm water. Make him drink as much as he can.

Then give him more strong tea or coffee.

Of course, if your doctor advises against such antidotes and orders you to bring the lad to his office or the hospital at once, follow his advice.

The measures I have listed here are for emergencies only. Once you consult your doctor—and this is the best thing you can do—he is in charge of the situation.

As with any illness or accident, it is far easier to prevent poisoning than to cure it. Simply by keeping aspirin and all drugs and poisons safely out of reach of your youngster, you can save yourself and your child a lot of worry, heartache and sickness.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — Newsmen examine every word President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles say not only for what's new but to discover any changes, backtracking or compromises in their thinking.

This week both men discussed the idea of a summit conference with the Russians, as Prime Minister Bulganin proposed. Eisenhower spoke in a news conference, Dulles in a speech.

Was there any change in their thinking?

Not really. They used softer words than Dulles was speaking a month ago. But underneath the moderate language there was still a basic, tough coldness. The softer words were probably the result of pressure from American allies. Bulganin wrote two letters to Eisenhower — and this country's NATO allies — suggesting a big summit conference to talk about disarmament and other problems of the cold war.

The first letter arrived just before Eisenhower and Dulles were setting out for the NATO meeting in Paris in December. A State Department spokesman dismissed it as propaganda.

This didn't sit too well with American allies in Paris—or some of them — who are jittery about Russian missiles and think a try should be made for a summit meeting on the theory it might do some good.

THE NATO countries proposed, instead of a summit meeting, that a start be made with a meeting of foreign ministers.

But Soviet leaders have given notice they object to a foreign ministers' meeting to solve cold war problems. One thing was sure: while Bulganin's letter did not get anywhere, it made good propaganda for Russia in a lot of places.

Eisenhower and Dulles came home and immediately made a TV report to the people. There wasn't any of the "let's go to the summit meeting" in Eisenhower's remarks. He called on the Soviets to show by deeds they really wanted peace.

Then Bulganin's second letter arrived Jan. 9. It was pretty much the same as the first. This time Dulles, not just a State Department spokesman, dismissed a Bulganin letter as "massive repetition" and propaganda.

In his reply to Bulganin last Sunday Eisenhower, in well-controlled language, said in effect: "Sure, let's have a summit conference but—"

This was the but:

Before there can be any summit meeting, there should be a foreign ministers meeting to work out the details on which Eisenhower, Bulganin and other heads of state would talk at the summit.

This wasn't yielding an inch because there wouldn't be a summit meeting unless the foreign ministers' meeting was successful to some extent. There's a good chance it wouldn't. Eisenhower repeated his proposal at a Wednesday news conference.

Thursday Dulles in a speech at the National Press Club said exactly what Eisenhower had written and said: A summit meeting after a foreign ministers' meeting. This was more positive than just brushing off Bulganin as a propagandist.

It hadn't brought the summit meeting any closer. But it did put the next move up to the Soviets.

Judge Says Ohio Law On Explosives Weak

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio needs a more stringent explosives law, Judge Benjamin Schwartz of juvenile court believes.

His statement followed a court session with ten boys who recently dynamited two rural outhouses. The boys were directed to rebuild them at their own expense.

"It is of interest to note with what ease the dynamite was purchased by one of these boys," Judge Schwartz said. "The law only forbids the sale of explosives to boys under 16."

In his reply to Bulganin last Sunday Eisenhower, in well-controlled language, said in effect: "Sure, let's have a summit conference but—"

This was the but:

Before there can be any summit meeting, there should be a foreign ministers meeting to work out the details on which Eisenhower, Bulganin and other heads of state would talk at the summit.

This wasn't yielding an inch because there wouldn't be a summit meeting unless the foreign ministers' meeting was successful to some extent. There's a good chance it wouldn't. Eisenhower repeated his proposal at a Wednesday news conference.

Thursday Dulles in a speech at the National Press Club said exactly what Eisenhower had written and said: A summit meeting after a foreign ministers' meeting. This was more positive than just brushing off Bulganin as a propagandist.

It hadn't brought the summit meeting any closer. But it did put the next move up to the Soviets.

Fulton County Wins Nod for 'Best Fair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Myers Y. Cooper trophy for the best Ohio fair of 1957 has been awarded to Fulton County. Presentation was at the closing session of the Ohio Fair Managers Assn. meeting Thursday.

Fulton County had earlier been named the winner of the Division C competition, counties with 24,000-35,000 population.

Other divisional winners include Cuyahoga, Division A (over 65,000); Wood, Division B (35,000-65,000); and Gallia, Division D (24,000 or less).

Fourteen counties were entered in the competition for the trophy, which was presented by former governor Myers Y. Cooper. They include Division A, Cuyahoga, Lorain, Mahoning and Muskingum; Division B, Fulton, Mercer, and Pickaway; and Division D, Gallia and Morgan.

During the business session Thursday all officers were re-elected: James D. Murray, president; Russell E. Alt, first vice president; Bryan P. Sandles, second vice president; Miss Goldie V. Scheible, executive secretary, and Henry G. Richards, treasurer.

Some counties in Virginia prohibit Sunday fishing.

Top Women's Clubs Stress Youth Recreation Programs

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Planned youth recreation programs seem to be leading all other community projects by women's clubs across the nation according to a sampling of entries entered in the 1956-58

Community Achievement Contest now nearing its judging date. Some 5,500 women's clubs have entered the contest co-sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation. This number, representing more than one-third of the total GFWC dues - paying membership, is the largest ever to compete in a federation-sponsored contest.

The youth programs are among a large variety of community improvement projects which must be submitted in the form of a scrapbook by March 1 to be judged in the competition for over $60,000 in cash prizes. National winners will be announced at the GFWC national convention June 4 in Detroit. The sampling shows 20 per cent of all clubs working to meet a need for planned youth recreation programs, either by building youth centers, running "teen canteens," building or improving existing playgrounds, supervising regularly scheduled youth activities, building community swimming pools, or some other major effort "to fill the leisure time of their local young people."

GFWC headquarters here says reports received from club Community Achievement chairmen "state over and over again that such programs are believed to counteract delinquency, especially among teen-agers."

Improved educational facilities, including libraries, are the second main area of activity, the contest headquarters reports. "Better looks," with emphasis on cleanup and beautification through planting, is third. Filling a need for health facilities, or improving and welfare activities, including aid for the aged, is in fifth place.

Ten per cent of all clubs are engaged in a variety of projects in their communities, with the over-all goal of community betterment, GFWC reports.

Retirement at Age 65 Idea Needs Review, Expert Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An overflow crowd of Ohio civic and welfare leaders has been told any program of aid for the aged must be directed toward trying to make the greatest possible number of those over 65 self-sustaining.

The urging came from Leonard W. Mayo, executive director of the Assn. for the Aid of Crippled Children in New York City, in his banquet address Thursday before Gov. C. William O'Neill's Conference on Problems of the Aging. Officials had estimated a maximum of 500 persons would turn out for the conference, but more than 700 were here for the opening session of the two-day meeting. The purpose of the conference is to make recommendations to the governor's Commission on The Aging, which in turn will make recommendations to the governor. He then—if re-elected—plans to take the recommendations before the 1959 General Assembly.

Mayo said the situation calls for an entirely new outlook. He said: "The philosophy extant during the depression that retirements should be pushed to make way for younger men and women must now be re-examined."

Extension of the working age will have the double benefit of lengthening the period of self-support and security of individuals and increasing the number of consumers in our economy, he told the conference.

In another address Thursday, William C. Treuhaft, a Cleveland manufacturer and co-chairman of the conference, said the most pressing problem facing the state is the adequate care of the chronically ill and infirmed. He added that Ohio needs to improve its standards in agencies and homes caring for the aged.

Earlier in the day, the conference broke into three separate groups which discussed incomes, homes and health care of the aged.

What Car Has The Best Brakes?

Read this

"After testing a 1958 CENTURY, one of four Buick Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new deeply-finned aluminum front brake drums, it is our agreeable duty to report that these are the best brakes on a Detroit sedan by far that we have tested, and that they are, conservatively, a 100 per cent improvement over conventional Detroit brakes."

Direct quotation from the new issue of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED 1958 AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AND SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION IN THE AUTOMOTIVE FIELD PRESENTED TO THE BUICK MOTOR DIVISION GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION FOR MAJOR ADVANCES IN BRAKES.

NOW—more than ever—
When better automobiles are built
Buick will build them

22 emergency stops from 60 mph—
and Buick's brakes still effective!

As a result of this grueling brake test, SCI stated: "We find it the rule for Detroit sedans to brake quite efficiently for the first few stops, but then they deteriorate rapidly." But here's what happened in the Buick CENTURY: 22 "crash stops" were made from 60 MPH, and afterwards, the brakes were still fully effective. Says SCI: "This was by far the most severe test we ever have submitted a sedan's brakes to, but after it was over—the Buick's brakes functioned perfectly. . . . Buick has done it, has achieved a much better product, and has set a new standard of 'brake quality for Detroit.'"

*"Crash Stop"—fastest full stop possible for a car traveling at a given speed.

That's the story as told by SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED. You'll find how true the story is when you drive the Air Born B-58 Buick yourself and learn about all its great features.

There are totally new features in ride, in performance, in all-round comfort and ease of handling. Come on in and prove that—at your Buick dealer's—today.

Aluminum Front Brakes Standard on all Series except SPECIAL.

THE UNIQUE OPEL

—the imported car made by General Motors in Germany—can now be ordered through authorized Buick dealers.

grace unto the hearers." Profanity is in such common use in our day that men (and sometimes women) use profane language to emphasize their remarks. It is not necessary and is most disturbing. Let us be careful in our talk "and give not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption."

"Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: 'And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.'"

To the Philippians Paul writes that he thinks of them always in his prayers with joy. "And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in the knowledge and in all judgment; that ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offense till the day of Christ."

Top Women's Clubs Stress Youth Recreation Programs

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Planned youth recreation programs seem to be leading all other community projects by women's clubs across the nation according to a sampling of entries entered in the 1956-58

Community Achievement Contest now nearing its judging date. Some 5,500 women's clubs have entered the contest co-sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation. This number, representing more than one-third of the total GFWC dues-paying membership, is the largest ever to compete in a federation-sponsored contest.

The youth programs are among a large variety of community improvement projects which must be submitted in the form of a scrapbook by March 1 to be judged in the competition for over $60,000 in cash prizes. National winners will be announced at the GFWC national convention June 4 in Detroit.

The sampling shows 20 per cent of all clubs working to meet a need for planned youth recreation programs, either by building youth centers, running "teen canteens," building or improving existing playgrounds, supervising regularly scheduled youth activities, building community swimming pools, or some other major effort "to fill the

GFWC headquarters here says reports received from club Community Achievement chairmen "state over and over again that such programs are believed to counteract delinquency, especially among teen-agers."

Improved educational facilities, including libraries, are the second main area of activity, the contest headquarters reports. "Better looks," with emphasis on cleanup and beautification through planting, is third. Filling a need for health facilities, or improving and welfare activities, including aid for the aged, is in fifth place.

Ten per cent of all clubs are engaged in a variety of projects in their communities, with the overall goal of community betterment, GFWC reports.

Retirement at Age 65 Idea Needs Review, Expert Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overflow crowd of Ohio civic and welfare leaders has been told any program of aid for the aged must be directed toward trying to make the greatest possible number of those over 65 self-sustaining.

The urging came from Leonard W. Mayo, executive director of the Assn. for the Aid of Crippled Children in New York City, in his banquet address Thursday before Gov. C. William O'Neill's Conference on Problems of the Aging. Officials had estimated a maximum of 500 persons would turn out for the conference, but more than 700 were here for the opening session of the two-day meeting.

The purpose of the conference is to make recommendations to the governor's Commission on The Aging, which in turn will make recommendations to the governor. He then—if re-elected—plans to take the recommendations before the 1959 General Assembly.

Mayo said the situation calls for an entirely new outlook. He said: "The philosophy extant during the depression that retirements should be pushed to make way for younger men and women must now be re-examined."

Extension of the working age will have the double benefit of lengthening the period of self-support and security of individuals and increasing the number of consumers in our economy, he told the conference.

In another address Thursday, William C. Treuhaft, a Cleveland manufacturer and co-chairman of the conference, said the most pressing problem facing the state is the adequate care of the chronically ill and infirmed. He added that Ohio needs to improve its standards in agencies and homes caring for the aged.

Earlier in the day, the conference broke into three separate groups which discussed incomes, homes and health care of the aged.

What Car Has The Best Brakes?

(Read this)

"After testing a 1958 CENTURY, one of four Buick Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new deeply-finned aluminum front brake drums, it is our agreeable duty to report that these are the best brakes on a Detroit sedan by far that we have tested, and that they are, conservatively, a 100 per cent improvement over conventional Detroit brakes."

Direct quotation from the new issue of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED in a report entitled: "THE SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED 1958 AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AND SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION IN THE AUTOMOTIVE FIELD PRESENTED TO THE BUICK MOTOR DIVISION GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION, FOR MAJOR ADVANCES IN BRAKES."

NOW—more than ever—
When better automobiles are built
Buick will build them

22 emergency stops from 60 mph—
and Buick's brakes still effective!

As a result of this grueling brake test, SCI stated: "We find the rule for Detroit sedans to brake quite efficiently for the first few stops, but then they deteriorate rapidly." But here's what happened in the Buick CENTURY: 22 "crash stops" were made from 60 MPH, and afterwards, the brakes were still fully effective. Says SCI: "This was by far the most severe test we ever have submitted a sedan's brakes to, but after it was over the Buick's brakes functioned perfectly. . . . Buick has done it, has achieved a much better product, and has set a new standard of 'brake quality for Detroit.'"

*"Crash Stop"—fastest full stop possible for a car traveling at a given speed.

That's the story as told by SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED. You'll find how true the story is when you drive the Air Born B-58 Buick yourself and learn about all its great features.

There are totally new features in ride, in performance, in all-round comfort and ease of handling. Come on in and prove that—at your Buick dealer's—today.

Aluminum Front Brakes Standard on all Series except SPECIAL.

THE UNIQUE OPEL

—the imported car made by General Motors in Germany—can now be ordered through authorized Buick dealers.

Woman Tied To Swindle In Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A fourth name has been added to a list of persons wanted in connection with an alleged $200,000 insurance swindle.

Miss Betty Tuckek, about 25, was named in a warrant issued Thursday by Mahoning County Judge Edgar G. Diehm. She was charged with obtaining $690 from American Associated Insurance Co. under false pretenses.

She was reported missing along with Sixth Ward councilman John J. Tobin Jr., 29, an adjutant for the insurance company, described by police as the leader of the swindle ring. Police also have been unable to locate Paul Shade, Tobin's business associate and campaign manager, and attorney Al- lein Swaim, 26.

Tobin has been charged with embezzlement and with issuing a check without having sufficient funds. Shade was charged with aiding and abetting the embezzlement. Swaim is wanted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Authorities said Miss Tuckek had admitted cashing three checks on the insurance company without having a legitimate claim. Police were unable to find her where she was employed or at her home when they sought to arrest her Thursday afternoon.

Also charged with obtaining money under false pretenses was Dr. James Barnes, 32, who, police charge, collected a claim on an automobile accident which never happened. He was arrested Saturday and released on $3,000 bond after pleading innocent.

Thug Linked To Second Beating Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—One of two men held for investigation in the robbery-beating of two Waynesville service station attendants may be involved in a similar robbery-beating at Lewisburg, the Montgomery County sheriff's office reported today.

A Lewisburg, Preble County, grocer, Paul Mincks, 43, and his wife Doralyn, 40, were beaten and robbed Monday night. Mincks said $183 was taken.

And Howard A. Carnes, 44, a service station operator at Waynesville, reported $80 stolen Wednesday morning after he and an attendant, Donald King, 35, were also beaten.

In both cases, the victims said the robbers were two young men, wearing white handkerchief masks and brandishing a nickel-plated revolver. The beating instrument, authorities said, was apparently a tool like a tire iron.

Today, the sheriff's office said, Lawrence L. Lloyd, 23, of Rt. 1, Brookville, was arrested on No. 9 Road, near the Preble County line, and turned over to Preble County authorities for investigation in the case.

Authorities did not say how they connected him with the investigation, but said he told them William L. Johnson Jr., 21, of Dayton, is involved in the grocery robbery. Johnson is being held in the service station robbery.

Also held in the service station robbery is Russell Thomas Brenner, 20, of Dayton.

Montgomery County sheriff's Sgt. Mel Casey said Lloyd also named a third man in the grocery robbery. He declined to identify him until he is taken into custody.

Cotton Farmer Interest Up In Acreage Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmer interest in the acreage reserve part of the soil bank—which is headed for the ash can—is turning out to be greater than federal officials had expected.

The Agriculture Department reports that so many cotton farmers in the Southwest rushed to participate this week that limitations may have to be imposed on participation.

Secretary Benson disclosed last week that the administration proposed to abandon the acreage reserve next year and to strengthen the longer-term conservation reserve.

In his special message on agriculture sent to Congress Thursday, President Eisenhower called for termination of the acreage reserve because, he said, the number of farmers participating this year is likely to be small.

Congress has authorized acreage reserve payments totaling not more than half a billion dollars this year.

Officials said it may be necessary to allocate the funds among states.

Under the acreage reserve, the department makes payments to farmers who retire part or all their planting allotments for corn, cotton, wheat, rice and tobacco.

Officials said the top-level deci-

Re-Employment by GE Not General, Aide Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—Re-employment of 112 persons this week at General Electric's plant in near-by Evendale does not mean that a general recall is underway for those laid off in the past few months, a spokesman says.

The employees were called back to meet Air Force commitments, the spokesman said.

GE has laid off approximately 3,000 workers during the last year.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A fourth name has been added to a list of persons wanted in connection with an alleged $200,000 insurance swindle.

Miss Betty Tuckeh, about 25, was named in a warrant issued Thursday by Mahoning County Judge Edgar G. Diehm. She was charged with obtaining $690 from American Associated Insurance Co. under false pretenses.

She was reported missing along with Sixth Ward councilman John J. Tobin Jr., 29, an adjuster for the insurance company, described by police as the leader of the swindle ring. Police also have been unable to locate Paul Shade, Tobin's business associate and campaign manager, and attorney Altem Swaim, 26.

Tobin has been charged with embezzlement and with issuing a check without having sufficient funds. Shade was charged with aiding and abetting the embezzlement. Swaim is wanted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Authorities said Miss Tuckeh had admitted cashing three checks on the insurance company without having a legitimate claim. Police were unable to find her where she was employed or at her home when they sought to arrest her Thursday afternoon.

Also charged with obtaining money under false pretenses was Dr. James Barnes, 32, who, police charge, collected a claim on an automobile accident which never happened. He was arrested Saturday and released on $3,000 bond after pleading innocent.

Cotton Farmer Interest Up In Acreage Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmer interest in the acreage reserve part of the soil bank—which is headed for the ash can—is turning out to be greater than federal officials had expected.

The Agriculture Department reports that so many cotton farmers in the Southwest rushed to participate this week that limitations may have to be imposed on participation.

Secretary Benson disclosed last week that the administration proposed to abandon the acreage reserve next year and to strengthen the longer-term conservation reserve.

In his special message on agriculture sent to Congress Thursday, President Eisenhower called for termination of the acreage reserve because, he said, the number of farmers participating this year is likely to be small.

Congress has authorized acreage reserve payments totaling not more than half a billion dollars this year.

Officials said it may be necessary to allocate the funds among states.

Under the acreage reserve, the department makes payments to farmers who retire part or all their planting allotments for corn, cotton, wheat, rice and tobacco. Officials said the top-level decision to drop the acreage reserve had been based in large measure on small participation of winter wheat farmers during a signup period last fall. They said it was unlikely, however, that the administration would change its decision to abandon the acreage reserve.

Interest in retiring cotton land in the southwest apparently grew, officials said, from losses suffered by many growers because of adverse weather during the latter part of the growing season.

The acreage reserve program offers a type of crop insurance to growers not wishing to risk crop losses two years in a row.

Thug Linked To Second Beating Case

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One of two men held for investigation in the robbery-beating of two Waynesville service station attendants may be involved in a similar robbery-beating at Lewisburg, the Montgomery County sheriff's office reported today.

A Lewisburg, Preble County, grocer, Paul Mincks, 43, and his wife Doralyn, 40, were beaten and robbed Monday night. Mincks said $183 was taken.

And Howard A. Carnes, 44, a service station operator at Waynesville, reported $80 stolen Wednesday morning after he and an attendant, Donald King, 35, were also beaten.

In both cases, the victims said the robbers were two young men, wearing white handkerchief masks and brandishing a nickel-plated revolver. The beating instrument, authorities, said, was apparently a tool like a tire iron.

Today, the sheriff's office said, Lawrence L. Lloyd, 23, of Rt. 1, Brookville, was arrested on No. 9 Road, near the Preble County line, and turned over to Preble County authorities for investigation in the case.

Authorities did not say how they connected him with the investigation, but said he told them William L. Johnson Jr., 21, of Dayton, is involved in the grocery robbery. Johnson is being held in the service station robbery.

Also held in the service station robbery is Russell Thomas Brenner, 20, of Dayton.

Montgomery County sheriff's Sgt. Mel Casey said Lloyd also named a third man in the grocery robbery. He declined to identify him until he is taken into custody.

Preposterous Goings-On Color California Ring Show

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The scheduled main attraction was relegated to virtual obscurity at Olympic Auditorium Thursday night, when 2,000 fans went daffy over the preposterous goings-on in the 10-round semi-main event.

It was this latter engagement that produced these items:

1. One fighter was decked between rounds.
2. At one point, both combatants were on the floor simultaneously.
3. The referee was attacked in the ring by a spectator.
4. The matchmaker eventually got into the ring himself—to protect the referee.
5. The fight ended when one of the participants fell off his stool.

The gladiators in this one-ring circus were Senor Alvaro Gutierrez of Mexico and L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio.

The first hint that this was no ordinary affair came in the fourth, when Morgan, 140, delivered a right that left Gutierrez, 144½, in a horizontal posture. As Morgan stepped back to admire his work, he tripped over his own feet and fell backward to the deck.

The fighter got up, almost simultaneously, just before the bell that ended the round. The crowd was going looney.

Seconds after the fourth round ended, Morgan stumbled across the ring and let Gutierrez have it with a right to the chin. Gutierrez didn't go down. But the exhausted Morgan did, and had to be carried to his corner.

Morgan came back and managed to score two knockdowns in the fifth, but he was badly spent when it was over.

The many Mexican fans in the crowd were enraged at what he'd done to their hero before the fifth round started. As the sound and fury mounted, a burly Latin, unidentified, charged into the ring and started hammering on referee John Thomas. Several ringsiders hopped to the official's defense, and matchmaker George Parnassus joined them.

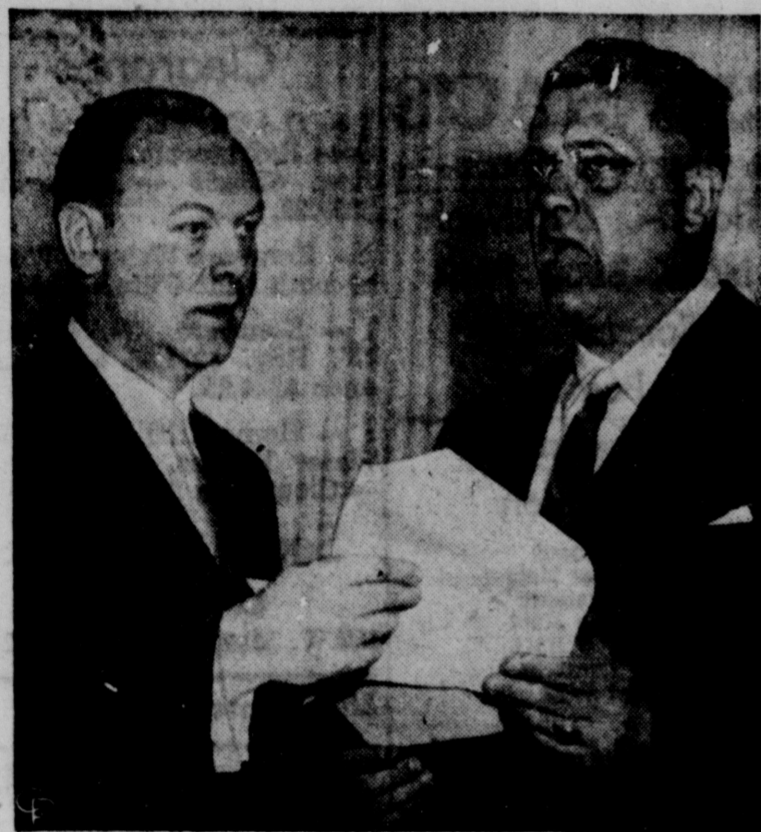

Debris was flying through the arena when the bell for round six sounded.

But it was all over. Morgan tried to get off his stool, but collapsed before he could take a step. It was a technical knockout for Gutierrez.

In what was supposed to have been the main event, former lightweight champion Lauro Salas, 128, Los Angeles, lost a split decision to Ernesto Parra, 128½, Mexico City, in 10 rounds.

OSU'S HAYES HONORED—Receiving the Midwest Coach-of-the-Year award in Chicago from B. He said, "... don't forget that every time there is such a (coach) change, a (college) president accepts a coach he knows is breaking a contract when he comes to his school."

Darby, New Holland In Crucial Game

All eyes will be turned toward New Holland tonight when the Trojans of Darby storm into town for a game which virtually will determine the Pickaway County League race.

Coach John McPherson's mighty Trojans will make the trip to New Holland with a perfect record of six wins and no losses. New Holland, making a splendid bid for league honors, is 5-1 for the season and a rough customer for any opponent.

The Trojans probably are aware that they will have to be at their best to down Coach Bob Melick's forces. A win for NH would throw the loop race into at least a two-way deadlock. If Ashville wins over Monroe tonight it would be a three-way knot.

Tonight's fireworks will feature three of the five top scorers in the county. Darby's Ronnie Guthell is second in the point race with a 21.7 average per game. New Holland's John Lininger is third with a 21 point average and Trojan Ned Musselman is fourth with a 19.8 average.

LININGER, a Bulldog mainstay all season, does just about everything on a basketball floor and does it well. His heads-up play has been a vital factor in New Holland's fine 10-1 record for the season.

Guthell and Musselman give Darby perhaps the best one-two scoring punch in the county. Both hit consistently and rebound with the best.

Fans fortunate enough to find a seat in the NH gym can expect to see plenty of thrills and excitement tonight.

Other games on the local and area card tonight find Monroe at

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees had his best batting average (.365) in 1957 but he was second in the American League to Ted Williams' league leading .388.

Winners' bracket play gets under way Monday night with four games slated. Two of the tilts, Williamsport vs Atlanta and Scioto vs Darby will be played at Jackson.

Winners of the Salt Creek-Washington and Pickaway-Wayne tilts will meet at Ashville.

THE fourth contest is a meeting between Walnut and Ashville. The test will be at Ashville's gym.

Two semifinal tilts are scheduled Wednesday night at Jackson between winners of the Deercreek-Atlanta and Scioto-Darby battles and the winners of the Ashville-Walnut game and bracket winner of section 4.

Finals will be played January 25 at Jackson.

Dayton Quint Chalks Victory Over Oklahoma

Tom Blackburn Junks Ball Control Strategy In Turning Tide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fast or slow, power or finesse. Tom Blackburn's University of Dayton basketball teams have that winning touch.

Blackburn, the silver-haired strategist whose teams rolled up a 217-83 record over the last decade, was handed a squad this year short on capable big men but long on speed and adaptability.

It has meant a different style of play, but the Flyers are winning just the same.

Dayton's record was boosted to 12-2 Thursday night with a 75-60 victory over Oklahoma City. The Flyers, after playing possession-type basketball most of the season, did it with a fast break this week.

Blackburn junked ball control after seven minutes of play and the teams tied 12-12. The result was a spurt that whipped the Flyers into a 45-21 halftime lead. The closest Oklahoma City, led by 6-10 Hub Reed's 35 points, got after that was 12 points in the closing minutes.

Joe Hobbs set a University of Florida scoring record with 38 points in a 75-70 victory over Miami (Fla.), and Texas, after winning only one previous game, upset Texas Christian 73-69 in the Southwest Conference in other features of a slim program.

Brenton Hughes had 21 for Texas, which used a zone defense to overcome TCU's advantage in height.

Dave Hollingsworth's jump shot with five seconds left enabled Davidson to nip Furman 72-70 in a Southern Conference thriller while in the same league, freshmen Bob Ayersman and Chris Smith led Virginia Tech to a 96-60 rout of Washington and Lee. Ayersman had 29 points and Smith 20.

Montana lost its first in three Skyline Conference starts, 55-53 to Denver, but Utah, shocked by Montana in its Skyline opener, continued its comeback with an 86-55 romp over New Mexico.

The scoringest team in the land—West Virginia Tech—was at it again, routing Glenville of West Virginia 127-80 to protect its 100-points-a-game average.

Baldwin-Wallace Loses High-Scoring Cage Star

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets meet Wittenberg Saturday night without the services of Wynn Hawkins, the highest scoring basketball player in the Cleveland school's history.

Hawkins, a New Waterford senior who has scored 1,392 points in his college career, was declared ineligible for further college competition Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Laurelville Team Leading Area Quints

Laurelville continued to lead area teams in the won-lost column with 11 victories and one loss. The Indians have a .917 winning percentage. Following Laurelville are the Centralia Bulldogs, who are competing in a strong Ross County League.

Centralia stands 9 and 4 on the season, giving it a .692 percentage in 13 games. The Bulldogs suffered their second league loss, 44 to 45, last Friday night at the hands of league leader Huntington.

The Amanda Aces are just over the winning margin with six wins against five losses for a .545 average. Stoutsville is at the .500 mark and Kingston is low team on the totem pole with a .385 percentage with five victories in 13 outings.

Laurelville still remained the top offensive team totaling 767 points in 12 games for a 63.9 average. Centralia followed with a 62.3 average on 810 points in 13 games. Amanda also broke the 60 mark with a 60.5 average on 665 points in 11 games.

Defensively, Centralia and Laurelville are tied, allowing opponents 50 points. The Indians have allowed 612 points in 12 games while the Bulldogs have held their opponents to 650 points in 13 games.

Detroit Stars In Bowling Test

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—It was Eddie Lubanski of Detroit all the way in the first day of the All-Star bowling tournament finals.

The hefty 28-year-old salesman set a record Thursday and then proceeded to break it a few hours later. Lubanski's record consisted of three straight four-game series of 900 or more in the first three squads of the day.

As if that weren't enough, he came up with a 910 performance in the fourth and final performance to blot his average for 16 games to 230-plus in the fourth and final round of the day.

Basilio, Sugar To Duel Again On March 25

CHICAGO (AP)—It should be with considerable wariness that Carmen Basilio puts his middleweight title on the line in a rematch with Sugar Ray Robinson set for March 25 at Chicago Stadium.

The big arena, which will be scaled for an indoor record gate of $500,000 based on a 22,000 attendance, is the scene of Robinson's most dramatic triumphs.

It was there on Feb. 14, 1951, that he stopped Jake LaMotta in the 11th round to win the crown.

It was there on April 16, 1952, that he defended it by chilling Rocky Graziano in the third round. It was there he climaxed a comeback on Dec. 9, 1955, by knocking out Bobo Olson in the fifth round to regain the title.

It was there that he again regained it on May 1, 1957, with a fifth round kayo of Gene Fullmer.

Basilio dethroned the 37-year-old Robinson last Sept. 23 in Yankee Stadium, New York.

The two will sign formally Thursday in Chicago.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, said that "we were guaranteed $275,000 from theater-TV and we expect it to go much higher than that."

The fighters each will receive 30 per cent of the proceeds from the gate, television, radio and motion picture rights. In their last meeting, Robinson took 45 per cent and Basilio 20. The proceeds totalled $739,000.

Tigers Meet Lucasville

Chillicothe Next For Circleville

Coach Dick Boyd's Circleville High cagers are all set for an invasion by Lucasville tonight at the local gym.

The Tigers will be gunning for their seventh win in 10 starts. They probably will run into a rough struggle in their effort to turn back the Scioto County quintet.

Appearing on the CHS schedule for the last several years, the Lucasville club usually comes up with a respected team.

Circleville will depend on the scoring punch of Bill Johnson and big Jon Pacher, both capable of racking up the points on a hot night. Mike Hosler, Dick Smith, John Wright, Asa Elsea and Don Rowland also will be counted on for some valuable scoring and expert defensive work.

The Tigers will resume action Saturday night with a trip to Chillicothe. The Tigers will go all out to bump the powerful Cavaliers who handed the locals a defeat here earlier in the season.

as assistant football coach at Northwestern to join the Ohio State University coaching staff.

He succeeds Bill Hess, who resigned from OSU to become head coach at Ohio University.

Shaw of Centralia Sets Hot Pace

Centralia's Bobby Shaw took over first place in the area scoring race on the basis of his 18 point showing against Ross County's league leader Huntington last Friday night. Shaw moves into No. 1 position with a 17.9 average and a lead of half a point over Amanda's Neil Delong.

Delong, who maintained first place for three weeks, dropped to second as he scored 27 points in two games last week for a 13½ point average. Delong has a 17.4 average for 11 games. He was held to seven points in Pickaway last Tuesday night.

Gary Allen, Laurelville, and Stoutsville's Ronny Hill are breathing down the leaders' neck with 17.3 averages.

Allen, who held first place for one week, tallied 47 points in two games last week and jumped from sixth place into a tie for third.

The miniature guard is Laurelville's playmaker and ace scorer. He is especially effective on the fast break, which the Indians have mastered to perfection.

HILL has maintained his average with a 17 point display against tough league opponent Bremen last Friday night. He has been fighting, a running battle with teammate Ray Reinhold who holds down fifth place with a 16.9 average.

Reinhold was outstanding last Friday, scoring 24 points and rebounding tremendously against an experienced Bremen outfit. He was held to eight points the week before by sixth place Floyd Myers, as Centralia downed the Indians, 69 to 41.

Myers, 15.5, suffered one of the worst nights of his career last Friday, as his fighting Bulldogs went down to a one point loss at the hands of Huntington, 45 to 44, and he was held to four points. In 12 games this year, Myers has attempted 125 field goals and made 75 for a sizzling 60 per cent shooting average. Myers doesn't shoot as often as he could, but when he does it usually is good.

Emory Carper returned to the top 10 this week after an absence of three weeks. He has an 11.2 average and moved Laurelville's Tom Eveland out of the elite column.

Laurelville still maintains its monopoly with three men in the top 10. Kingston placed one man and the other teams have two representatives.

OSU'S HAYES HONORED—Receiving the Midwest Coach-of-the-Year award in Chicago from B. Stuart Weyforth, Jr., president of the Executive club, Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes (right) came to the defense of coaches who jump their contracts. He said, "... don't forget that every time there is such a (coach) change, a (college) president accepts a coach he knows is breaking a contract when he comes to his school."

Darby, New Holland In Crucial Game

All eyes will be turned toward New Holland tonight when the Trojans of Darby storm into town for a game which virtually will determine the Pickaway County League race.

Coach John McPherson's mighty Trojans will make the trip to New Holland with a perfect loop record of six wins and no losses. New Holland, making a splendid bid for league honors, is 5-1 for the season and a rough customer for any opponent.

The Trojans probably are aware that they will have to be at their best to down Coach Bob Melick's forces. A win for NH would throw the loop race into at least a two-way deadlock. If Ashville wins over Monroe tonight it would be a three-way knot.

Tonight's fireworks will feature three of the five top scorers in the county. Darby's Ronnie Guthrie is second in the point race with a 21.7 average per game. New Holland's John Lininger is third with a 21 point average and Trojan Ned Musselman is fourth with a 19.8 average.

LININGER, a Bulldog mainstay all season, does just about everything on a basketball floor and does it well. His heads-up play has been a vital factor in New Holland's fine 10-1 record for the season.

Guthrie and Musselman give Darby perhaps the best one-two scoring punch in the county. Both hit consistently and rebound with the best.

Fans fortunate enough to find a seat in the NH gym can expect to see plenty of thrills and excitement tonight.

Other games on the local and area card tonight find Monroe at

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees had his best batting average (.365) in 1957 but he was second in the American League to Ted Williams' league leading .388.

Ashville, Atlanta at Pickaway, Jackson at Salter Creek, Franklin Heights at Scioto, Williamsport at Walnut, Millersport at Amanda, Kingston at Twin, Berne Union at Stoutsville and Southeastern at Centralia.

Laurelville Team Leading Area Quints

Laurelville continued to lead area teams in the won-lost column with 11 victories and one loss. The Indians have a .917 winning percentage. Following Laurelville are the Centralia Bulldogs, who are competing in a strong Rose County League.

Centralia stands 9 and 4 on the season, giving it a .692 percentage in 13 games. The Bulldogs suffered their second league loss, 44 to 45, last Friday night at the hands of league leader Huntington.

The Amanda Aces are just over the winning margin with six wins against five losses for a .545 average. Stoutsville is at the .500 mark and Kingston is low team on the totem pole with a .385 percentage with five victories in 13 outings.

Laurelville still remained the top offensive team totaling 767 points in 12 games for a 63.9 average. Centralia followed with a 62.3 average on 810 points in 13 games. Amanda also broke the 60 mark with a 60.5 average on 665 points in 11 games.

Defensively, Centralia and Laurelville are tied, allowing opponents 50 points. The Indians have allowed 612 points in 12 games while the Bulldogs have held their opponents to 650 points in 13 games.

Dayton Quint Chalks Victory Over Oklahoma

Tom Blackburn Junks Ball Control Strategy In Turning Tide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fast or slow, power or finesse. Tom Blackburn's University of Dayton basketball teams have that winning touch.

Blackburn, the silver-haired strategist whose teams rolled up a 217-83 record over the last decade, was handed a squad this year short on capable big men but long on speed and adaptability.

It has meant a different style of play, but the Flyers are winning just the same.

Dayton's record was boosted to 12-2 Thursday night with a 75-60 victory over Oklahoma City. The Flyers, after playing possession-type basketball most of the season, did it with a fast break this week.

Blackburn junked ball control after seven minutes of play and the teams tied 12-12. The result was a spurt that whipped the Flyers into a 45-21 halftime lead. The closest Oklahoma City, led by 6-10 Hub Reed's 35 points, got after that was 12 points in the closing minutes.

Joe Hobbs set a University of Florida scoring record with 38 points in a 75-70 victory over Miami (Fla.), and Texas, after winning only one previous game, upset Texas Christian 73-69 in the Southwest Conference in other features of a slim program.

Brenton Hughes had 21 for Texas, which used a zone defense to overcome TCU's advantage in height.

Dave Hollingsworth's jump shot with five seconds left enabled Davidson to nip Furman 72-70 in a Southern Conference thriller while in the same league, freshmen Bob Ayersman and Chris Smith led Virginia Tech to a 96-60 rout of Washington and Lee. Ayersman had 29 points and Smith 20.

Montana lost its first in three Skyline Conference starts, 55-33 to Denver, but Utah, shocked by Montana in its Skyline opener, continued its comeback with an 86-55 romp over New Mexico.

The scoringest team in the land—West Virginia Tech—was at it again, routing Glenville of West Virginia 127-90 to protect its 100-points-a-game average.

Baldwin-Wallace Loses High-Scoring Cage Star

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Baldwin-Wallace Yellow Jackets meet Wittenberg Saturday night without the services of Wynn Hawkins, the highest scoring basketball player in the Cleveland school's history.

Hawkins, a New Waterford senior who has scored 1,392 points in his college career, was declared ineligible for further college competition Thursday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Detroit Stars In Bowling Test

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—It was Ed die Lubanski of Detroit all the way in the first day of the All-Star bowling tournament finals.

The hefty 28-year-old salesman set a record Thursday and then proceeded to break it a few hours later. Lubanski's record consisted of three straight four-game series of 900 or more in the first three squads of the day.

As if that weren't enough, he came up with a 910 performance in the fourth and final performance to blast his average for 16 games to 230-plus in the fourth and final round of the day.

Basilio, Sugar To Duel Again On March 25

CHICAGO (AP)—It should be with considerable wariness that Carmen Basilio puts his middleweight title on the line in a rematch with Sugar Ray Robinson set for March 25 at Chicago Stadium.

The big arena, which will be scaled for an indoor record gate of $500,000 based on a 22,000 attendance, is the scene of Robinson's most dramatic triumphs.

It was there on Feb. 14, 1951, that he stopped Jake LaMotta in the 11th round to win the crown.

It was there on April 16, 1952, that he defended it by chilling Rocky Graziano in the third round.

It was there he climaxed a comeback on Dec. 9, 1953, by knocking out Bobo Olson in the fifth round to regain the title.

It was there that he again regained it on May 1, 1957, with a fifth round kayo of Gene Fullmer. Basilio dethroned the 37-year-old Robinson last Sept. 23 in Yankee Stadium, New York.

The two will sign formally Thursday in Chicago.

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, said that "we were guaranteed $275,000 from theater-TV and we expect it to go much higher than that."

The fighters each will receive 30 per cent of the proceeds from the gate, television, radio and motion picture rights. In their last meeting, Robinson took 45 per cent and Basilio 20. The proceeds totalled $739,000.

Strickland Retiring As Cleveland Player

CLEVELAND (AP)—George Strickland, former regular shortstop for the Cleveland Indians, says he has retired from baseball in order to spend more time with his family.

In a letter received by Tribe general manager Frank Lane Thursday, Strickland, who was 32 last week, asked that he be placed on the voluntary retired list. He has accepted a recreational job in New Orleans.

Tigers Meet Lucasville

Chillicothe Next For Circleville

Coach Dick Boyd's Circleville High cagers are all set for an invasion by Lucasville tonight at the local gym.

The Tigers will be gunning for their seventh win in 10 starts. They probably will run into a rough struggle in their effort to turn back the Scioto County quintet.

Appearing on the CHS schedule for the last several years, the Lucasville club usually comes up with a respected team.

Circleville will depend on the scoring punch of Bill Johnson and big Jon Parcher, both capable of racking up the points on a hot night. Mike Hosler, Dick Smith, John Wright, Asa Elsea and Don Rowland also will be counted on for some valuable scoring and expert defensive work.

The Tigers will resume action Saturday night with a trip to Chillicothe. The Tigers will go all out to bump the powerful Cavaliers who handed the locals a defeat here earlier in the season.

as assistant football coach at Northwestern to join the Ohio State University coaching staff.

He succeeds Bill Hess, who resigned from OSU to become head coach at Ohio University.

Shaw of Centralia Sets Hot Pace

Centralia's Bobby Shaw took over first place in the area scoring race on the basis of his 18 point showing against Ross County's league leader Huntington last Friday night. Shaw moves into No. 1 position with a 17.9 average and a lead of half a point over Amanda's Neil Delong.

Delong, who maintained first place for three weeks, dropped to second as he scored 27 points in two games last week for a 13½ point average. Delong has a 17.4 average for 11 games. He was held to seven points in Amanda's narrow 47-45 win over Pickaway last Tuesday night.

Gary Allen, Laurelville, and Stoutsville's Ronny Hill are breathing down the leaders' neck with 17.3 averages.

Allen, who held first place for one week, tallied 47 points in two games last week and jumped from sixth place into a tie for third. The miniature guard is Laurelville's playmaker and ace scorer. He is especially effective on the fast break, which the Indians have mastered to perfection.

Hill has maintained his average with a 17 point display against tough league opponent Bremen last Friday night. He has been fighting, a running battle with teammate Ray Reincheid who holds down fifth place with a 16.9 average.

Reincheid was outstanding last Friday, scoring 24 points and rebounding tremendously against an experienced Bremen outfit. He was held to eight points the week before by sixth place Floyd Myers, as Centralia downed the Indians, 69 to 41.

Myers, 15.5, suffered one of the worst nights of his career last Friday, as his fighting Bulldogs went down to a one point loss at the hands of Huntington, 45 to 44, and he was held to four points. In 12 games this year, Myers has attempted 125 field goals and made 75 for a sizzling 60 per cent shooting average. Myers doesn't shoot as often as he could, but when he does it usually is good.

Emory Carper returned to the top 10 this week after an absence of three weeks. He has an 11.2 average and moved Laurelville's Tom Eveland out of the elite column.

Laurelville still maintains its monopoly with three men in the top 10. Kingston placed one man and the other teams have two representatives.

Individual Ohio Cage Stars Shine in Thursday Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thursday was the day for individual basketball stars to shine. Mike Outcalt, a 6 foot 5 Fairfield County product, broke the Capital University scoring record with a 49-point barrage. It came during the Lutherans' sweep of Denison, 110-49.
Outcalt's 17 field goals and 15 of 15 free throws erased Bob Bernlohr's old mark of 36, scored against Anderson, Ind., in 1953.
The Capital ace wasn't the only one to get hot. A 6-10 Oklahoman scored 35 points while the Oklahoma City Chiefs were absorbing a 75-60 defeat at Dayton. Hubert Reed scored more than half of his team's points on 10 field goals and 15 of 18 charity tosses.
Dayton broke the Chiefs with a fast break, something they have used very sparingly all season. The Flyers have gained the reputation of being a possession team and Oklahoma City kept that style offense pretty well bottled up through the early part of the game.
But with 12:40 remaining in the half and the score at 12-12, the Flyers started to fly, exploding for nine points in five minutes. During that period the Chiefs were scoreless.
From then on, it was all Dayton as they posted their 12th win in 14 games. The Chiefs are 7-8.
Jack Harnner helped run Wilmington's winning streak to eight as he dumped in 28 points. His teammates added 54 more and the Quakers swept past Cedarville 82-48 in a Mid-Ohio League game.
Steubenville ran its home winning streak to 50 games with a 71-58 win over Mt. St. Mary's.
The win avenged the Barons' only loss of the year, 67-66 at Mt. St. Mary's in their first game. Steubenville has won 16 straight since then.
Jim Smith only got seven points but his glory came in the rebound department, where he picked off 28. Smith is averaging 23 per game, tops among the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s small colleges.
In one out-of-state tilt, Youngstown suffered its fourth loss in 15 games with a 99-67 defeat at St. Vincent of Pennsylvania.

Johnson To Battle Whitehurst Tonight

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Harold Johnson battles Bert Whitehurst tonight in a TV heavyweight fight. Johnson, 29, from Philadelphia, won a split decision over Whitehurst in a previous match.
Tonight's 10-round performance will be televised and broadcast by NBC TV-radio at 10 p. m.
Johnson is remembered by viewers for an incident in a televised fight two years ago when he failed to answer the third-round bell after biting into a doped orange in Philadelphia. An investigation by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission cleared him of complicity.

Pickaway Share of Federal Budget May Hit $11,691,571

COLUMBUS — Operation of the federal government during the fiscal year 1958-1959, will cost the residents of Pickaway County an estimated $11,691,571 if the Eisenhower budget of $73,900,000,000 submitted to Congress Monday is enacted into law, according to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Estimated cost for Ohio-at-large for the federal spending program proposed by the President would be $4,567,020,000, or a state-wide average of $493.02 for every citizen of Ohio or $1,972.08 for a family of four persons, Ohio Chamber President Harry W. Arnold said.

The estimate of Ohio's share is based on calculations by the Ohio Chamber's Research Department showing that the state's taxpayers pay 6.18 per cent of the total federal tax burden.

The proposed budget of $73,900,000,000 is an increase of $2,100,000,000 over the budget for the fiscal year 1957-1958 which began last

July 1, amounting to $71,800,000,000.

By comparison of expenditures within the state, Ohio's estimated share of $4,567,020,000 in federal taxes is nearly five times the total amount of $936,540,222 appropriated by the Ohio Legislature for the 1957-1958 biennium.

AT THE COST of $2,000,000 a mile, Ohio's share of the budget would build 2,283 miles of four-lane highways, or 9 1/2 times the distance between Cincinnati and Cleveland.

In comparing Pickaway County's share in the proposed federal spending, the Ohio Chamber's statistics showed the cost per capita in the county would be approximately $357.18 or $1,428.72 for a family of four.

The statistics also disclosed that Pickaway County's share is approximately 7 1/3 times the total property taxes assessed in the county in 1956 amounting to $1,595,130.

Chamber Warns Fund Donors

Solicitors Employ Illegal Methods

Darrell Hatfield, secretary of the Circleville area Chamber of Commerce, warned all local community organizations to be on guard against unethical fund raisers.

"Although there are many honest fund raisers," Hatfield cautioned, "there also are some con men in this business who use reputable community organizations as fronts for high pressure fund-raising schemes in which almost all the money goes to the promoter and his gang of solicitors."

The Chamber's warning was prompted by an article in the January issue of the American Legion Magazine entitled "You Can Beat the Phoneman" by Ralph Lee Smith. Although of special interest to Legionnaires, Smith's expose of the methods used by unscrupulous fund-raising promoters concerns business, patriotic, fraternal, civic, women's, church and all other community groups which have occasion to raise funds for worthy purposes.

Hatfield warned especially against the "boiler room" telephone solicitation which is used by shady promoters to high-pressure local residents into contributing. "A high percentage of the money collected," Hatfield stated, "goes right from the donor's checkbook into the promoter's and phoneman's pockets. Some of these promoters who operate 'out-of-the-hats' pay their phoneman as high as 35 per cent commission on funds collected and add on at least an additional 15 per cent for themselves."

SINCE the unscrupulous promoter's primary interest is in his own golden harvest, his vehicle for fund raising, whether it be a show, a cookbook, a year book, or what not, is frequently of very inferior quality and the resultant debacle and its attendant unpleasantness can be remembered for years.

"Unfortunately experiences with 'hit-and-run' fund raisers can easily be avoided," Hatfield added, "by following a few simple rules. Prospective donors can protect themselves by following the general policy of not giving to unknown solicitors in response to a telephone appeal. Printed or written details should be sought before any commitment is made."

"Community groups can avoid the questionable fund-raising promoter," Hatfield continued, "by making inquiry of the Chamber of Commerce before any contract is signed. The Chamber is pledged to help protect the community against unscrupulous operators, and will gladly assist local groups in securing information on fund-raising organizations and in reviewing their proposed appeals."

Through its membership affiliation with the National Better Business Bureau, the Chamber is in a position to secure factual reports on fund-raising solicitations. "By checking with the Chamber in advance," Hatfield concluded, "local groups can avoid inflicting an unethical solicitation on this community."

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce has a solicitation control program. Before signing or buying anything residents are urged to ask the solicitor if he has a letter from the local Chamber. If so ask to see it. If he does not have such a letter, call the Chamber office, phone 478.

The Teen-Age Problem

Codes of Behavior Help In War on Delinquency

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of two articles.

By Deane and David Heller
Written for Central Press

Do you youngsters blackjack you? When you object to turning over the keys to the family car on short notice, do they scream, "But I've got to have the car! Do you want everybody to think I'm a square?"

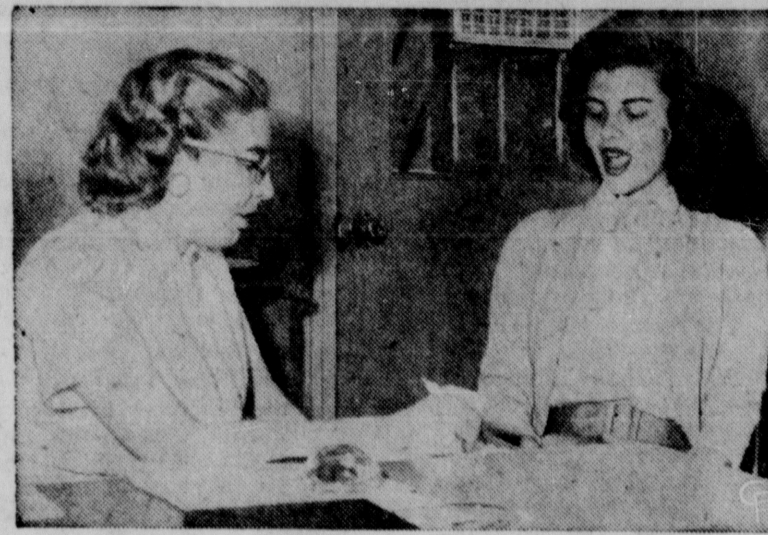

When you tell them they've got to come in from a dance or a date at a decent hour, do they wail, "But everybody but me is going to stay out till 4 a. m. What will the others say?"

When you object to the abominations of Elvis Presley, or to the hogging of the family television set, or hours-long conversations on the family telephone, do you have the gumption to stand behind your words?

In Knoxville, Tenn., a parent-student code for social behavior has been developed between parents and high school students which could well serve as a model for communities all over the nation.

Its aim is to be a guide "to help achieve co-operation for a safe, acceptable program of social activities for young people." A Knoxville newspaper has printed and distributed free 20,000 copies of the code for local high school kids and their parents.

By adopting community-wide standards, adults aren't pressured to grant extra concessions to their youngsters because "everybody else is doing it." The program is voluntary, but it sets reasonable standards which are becoming widely adhered to.

Among the gems set forth in the code are: "Parents should know where their sons and daughters are at all times, what they are doing, and with whom they are spending their time."

The code aims at encouraging social activities in the home. "The home should be offered and encouraged as a place for dating," it says. "Parents should cooperate sure of privacy. Public entertainment puts a strain on teen-agers' allowances."

The code believes that parties are for invited guests only. "Party crashing is an inexcusably rude custom," it points out. "Parties should be properly lighted," it admonishes.

The critical question of when Junior or Susy should arrive home after a social affair depends upon two factors, the code says: (1) At what time will the activity be over? (2) What is a reasonable amount of time to allow for arrival home?

It suggests 10 o'clock as a deadline on school nights and midnight as the ultimate on non-school nights, with one o'clock reserved for special occasions.

Other sections of the code deal with driving, smoking, drinking, etc.

Codes are becoming popular in widely separated parts of the country. Many Chicago schools have adopted them. So have communities in Minnesota.

In Silver Spring, Md., parents and teachers of Montgomery Blair high school have found part-time jobs a helpful outlet for exuberant teen-age spirits, as well as teaching valuable job skills and helping out hard-pressed family budgets.

Reporters Sum Up Reactions To Ike's Current Appearance

WASHINGTON (AP) — How does President Eisenhower look and act these days?

He seems to have slowed down some since the mild stroke he suffered last Nov. 25. His complexion may or may not have lost some of its ruddiness. Whether he has more difficulty than before in expressing himself is a matter of opinion.

This sums up the reaction of many of the 270 newsmen who watched Eisenhower Wednesday at his first news conference since his most recent illness.

Most of those questioned thought the President spoke more deliberately, and perhaps showed a little less vigor, than he used to. Some thought he seemed at times to be groping for words — he fumbled the name of the Federal Reserve Board, for instance. One reporter said he mispronounced the name of Soviet Premier Bulganin.

Others pointed out, however, that Eisenhower's thoughts often have raced ahead of his tongue so that his words haven't always conveyed what he obviously meant to say.

Some correspondents mention some nervousness on the President's part. They tended to attribute this to the fact that Eisenhower was submitting himself to a spontaneous question-and-answer session for the first time in 10 weeks — and also his undoubted awareness that newsmen would be watching for any after-effects of his slight stroke.

Doctors reported Eisenhower had some speech impairment right after the stroke, but they said that within a few days it disappeared to a point where only an expert could spot it.

Many reporters detected no change in Eisenhower's physical appearance, though some thought he looked a bit pale and somehow older than at his last news conference.

As for Eisenhower himself, he said he felt fine and only wished he could be out on the golf course. What the future may hold, he added calmly, is in the lap of the gods.
